Deadline Is Feb. 9 To File Tax Protests

15 Property Owners Have Filed Objections To Assessment Hikes

The Madison County Board of Review has set Feb. 9 as the deadline for filing objections to increases in property valuation ordered by the board in nine townships, including Granite City and Namekoi.

Date Hill, chief clerk of the review board, said that yesterday only 15 to 20 objections had been filed by property owners in both Granite City and Namekoi townships, but added that "we expect more as the deadline grows nearer."

Hill said that the Illinois State Department of Revenue had granted a 30-day extension of time in which the Board of Review may complete its work of determining final assessment figures for all of the county's 24 townships. The extension expires on Feb. 12, he said, leaving the review board only three days between the protest deadline and the deadline for certifying assessment books to the county clerk's office.

The board has not, however, received an answer from the state revenue department on its plea for a rehearing of the state's order fixing a tentative multiplier of 1.0390 to be applied against Madison county assessments for the 1967 tax year.

$28 Millions Short

The multiplier figure was certified to Miss Eudalia Holt, Madison county clerk, on Dec. 10, by the state revenue department that certification of $895 millions in property valuations by local township assessors was approximately $28 million short of the total needed to determine a 1.0 multiplier for the county.

The state said it therefore had determined a 1.0390 multiplier which would be made permanent unless the board of review adjusted the local assessments upward to account for an estimated $293 millions in valuation, the amount needed for a 1.0 multiplier.

In response the Board of Review, in an effort to ward off the higher multiplier, which would result in a county-wide increase in taxes, ordered a 10% increase in Granite City township and a 25% increase in Namekoi township on assessments on lots and improvements on lots.

James Barton, Granite City township assessor, said the rise would raise the total township value by $7.4 millions, and Joseph Coban, Namekoi township assessor, estimated the total Namekoi value would jump $3 millions. The $10.4 million increase in the two townships would account for slightly more than one-third of the additional assessments necessary to meet the state demand.

Orders Other Increases

In addition the review board ordered assessment increases of varying amounts on a per-

Johnson Rd. Work Advanced One Year; to Start in April

Improvement of Johnson road has been stepped up a year and construction now is being scheduled to start this spring on the section between Carlson and Franklin avenues.

Announcement of the project advancement from mid 1967 to this year was made during Monday night's Granite City Council session by Mayor Partney and Alderman Johnson, chairman of the Street committee.

Plans are for a 36-foot pavement with parking to be limited to one side in accordance with a state highway department requirement.

The advancement results from the increased state tax on gasoline giving added revenue for the city under the motor fuel tax program, the mayor and alderman reported.

Last November, the city was advised its motor fuel tax balance would be $191,000, but with 13 instead of 12 allocations last year, the actual balance on Jan. 1 was $307,391, the city was advised.

Areas to Decide If They Want Jr. College District

Revival of the Lewis & Clark Junior College District proposal that could include the Quad-Cities area is to be decided by Feb. 27 with a target date for a second collection either in December 1968 or January 1969.

Between 150 and 175 school officials and individuals from Madison, Jersey, Calhoun and Macoupin counties, who attended an open forum meeting Tuesday evening in Edwardsville, were asked to determine by Feb. 27 if their areas want to be included.

Car Explodes, Driver Suffers Minor Burns

Richard Cochran, Collinsville, suffered minor burns when his car exploded at 7:10 a.m. today when the motor of his late model sports car exploded and caught fire. The car was driving west on Route 162 near Route 111.

Jack Harper, chief of the Long Lake fire department, which was called to extinguish the blaze, estimated damage at $1200. Harper said Cochran told him that he was "just driving along when there was a sudden explosion under the hood and fire fanned back toward the driver's seat."

Tax Base Biggest Chouteau Village Problem

By WILLIAM F. WINTER
(Second of a Series)

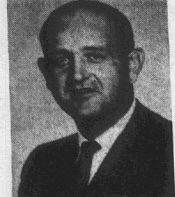

There are 179 separate figures in this article, which will serve as a warning to readers not particularly interested in statistics.

But it may make "dollars and sense" for Mitchell area residents to study the various numbers because they are related to the proposed incorporation of a village that would be known as Chouteau.

The incorporation election, to be decided by a simple majority of the "Yes" and "No" votes, will be held this winter.

One of the questions which the residents are pondering is whether the proposed village could support itself. The answer is "Yes, if... if they are prepared to dig deep in their wallets to foot the bills and if they are content with sharply limited village services. The reason for such a outlook is that the bulk of the

With income of $275,000 from MFT expected this year, and commitments of $145,000 for busi- ness, road widening, $100,000 for annual arterial street maintenance and $35,000 for the Michigan and Troy avenue improvement for 1968, Alderman Johnson called for the Carlson to Franklin avenue project for Johnson road to be ready by April 1 for the construction bid call.

No decision was made on the one-side parking restriction other than a resolution is to be prepared to be forwarded to the state highway department. Alderman Johnson said the restriction probably will be alternated each year as is done on several other streets in the city.

Plans also are being advanced for paving the section of Johnson road between Carlson and Franklin avenues.

Military Rites Saturday for Marine Magyar

Full military honors will be accorded Saturday to Marine Cpl. Blaise Magyar III, 25 oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Balazs Magyar Jr., 2125 Main avenue, who was killed by enemy mortar and artillery fire on Sunday, Jan. 7, in Thua Thien Province, South Vietnam.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Cpl. Magyar, a 1963 graduate of Granite City high school, had voluntarily returned to Vietnam on a second tour of duty four months ago. He was killed by North Vietnamese infiltrators as his combined action group, consisting of 12 to 14 U. S. Marines working with South Vietnamese militiamen, was attacked during a peace-keeping operation in one of South Vietnam's northernmost provinces.

Before returning home on a 30-day leave last August, the young Marine had served 11 months in Vietnam and was involved in numerous actions as a forward observer for U. S. artillery deployment.

On his second tour, Cpl. Magyar initially was a medical aid station operator at a battalion headquarters, but requested duty with a Combined Action Group shortly after his arrival.

Born in Granite City and a life-long resident here, the serviceman was a graduate from St. Joseph's parochial school and later from the local high school. He was employed in the IBM department at Tri-City Grocery Co. office and worked at General Store Industries until enlisting in the Marine Corps in September 1965.

Cpl. Magyar was a member of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church and a former member of the church's Catholic Youth Union.

Public to Help Plan GC School Tax Needs

Committee Will Meet Soon; Promote Kraus, Rec; Weiss to Transfer

In a busy meeting last night, the Granite City school board voted to establish a citizens' committee to help plan a tax and building referendum and approved four administrative appointments.

Present and future enrollment data collected by the schools, Parent-Teacher Associations and the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission are to be presented to a steering committee, which will be asked to study it and make recommendations to the board.

The plan was approved despite assertions by a teacher that the board is "dragging its feet." Board members denied the charge, adding that the work will be carried out and that it is still planned to hold the proposed referendum this spring.

Assistant Supt. Named

Administrative promotions approved by the board on the recommendation of Supt. Bob Davis were:

Assistant superintendent, Frank L. Kraus, effective July 1. He is now assistant to the superintendent.

Assistant to the superintendent, Dale C. Rea, effective July 1. He is principal of Emerson grade school.

Principal of Grigsby Junior high school, Charles Weiss, now assistant principal of Lincoln high school. The new school will open with the fall term.

Assistant principal of Coolidge Junior high school, Calvin Barrels, now a Prather Junior high school studies and English teacher. His promotion to the vacant position will be effective Jan. 29.

Other appointments to fill vacancies, such as the Central and Emerson principal posts, and a Grigsby assistant principal, will be made later.

It was decided to seek applicants for a temporary position of assistant in the personnel department. He is to work a year with Earl Lee, administrative assistant for personnel and elementary instruction, who plans to retire in June 1969.

In the discussion of a referendum,

No confirmation of the report could be obtained pending a conference to be held this week on legal aspects of the election proceedings.

12 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr., a young pediatrician and civic leader was named winner of the Distinguished Service Award for 1968 at the Granite City Jaycees' DSA and "Bosses' Night" banquet held last evening in the Rose Bowl restaurant.

More than 70 Jaycees, their employers and other guests witnessed the awards program and heard a talk by State Rep. Clyde Choate, (D), minority whip of the Illinois House of Representatives and winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Also honored for exceptional service was Alfred J. Wilson, upper intermediate teacher at Lake elementary school, who received the Jaycees' "Outstanding Young Educator Award."

Boy, 15, Severely Beats Woman, 79, In Venice Holdup

Using a nickel-plated gun he had stolen earlier in a burglary at a hardware store, a 15-year-old boy pistol-whipped and critically injured a 79-year-old Venice woman shortly before midnight Monday.

The victim is Mrs. Gertrude Dunmire, who operates a confectionery in the front of her home at 900 Third street. Venice was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where 40 stitches were required to close five severe scalp lacerations. She also suffered a deep gash on her left hand and contusions to her left arm.

Venice Chief of Police John Easington said the woman was beaten when she resisted robbing by the boy who entered the store with the gun in his hand about 11:50 p.m.

Aroused From Bed

Mrs. Dunmire said she was in bed and was aroused by the boy beating on the door. She said he called out that he wanted to get a half gallon of milk and she went to the front door.

Police said it was not yet clear whether she opened the door or the boy broke it open. The door, they said, was damaged and appeared to have been forced.

The victim told police that as the boy came in the door with the gun in his hand, she grabbed the pistol and attempted to wrest it from him. The boy then began beating her with the gun.

When she fell, she related, the boy, fled, but dropped the gun. Mrs. Dunmire then called police. They found her bleeding profusely when they arrived within a few minutes. She was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Mrs. Dunmire identified her assailant whom she had seen before and whom she knew by name.

Gun Was Stolen

The gun was identified as the one that had been stolen an hour earlier, about 10:30 p.m., in the burglary of the Pace Hardware store, 160 Broadway, where the front window had been knocked out but was still standing.

Council Again Blocking New GC Apartments

9-4 Vote Attributed To Misunderstanding Of 128-Unit Proposal

(Related Story on Page 8)

One of the most attractive apartment developments ever proposed here, the $1.3 million Granite City Village Apartments project, has been stalled by municipal officials apparently due to a misunderstanding of what is involved, a study by the Press-Record showed today.

The 9-4 negative vote by the city council Monday night threatened a loss of the apartments to some other community at a time when additional units are needed here.

Full financing for the Village Apartments already has been arranged, assuring a prompt start on the construction if the council reconsiders its reversal of the 12-member City Planning Commission's unanimously favorable recommendation.

The development would take place in an area south of an alley south of Pontoon road, located immediately west of Village lane and several hundred feet east of Stearns avenue. It is in the north central part of 117.8-acre area added to the city in 1965 and as yet not developed except for a church.

Misinformation or misunderstanding apparently centers in seven categories:

Tree-Lined 'Buffer'

1. A proposed 100-foot-wide "green belt" and recreational natural area, studied with trees, would provide a far better "buffer zone" than a row of houses, whose back yards would face existing homes in the area.

2. The direct section of the project beyond the recreation area would not be conventional apartments but attractive four- or unit "town houses."

3. The 100-foot-wide strip is not feasible for the development due to the terrain. By being left relatively undeveloped, it could be utilized more easily in the future when storm and sanitary sewer separation is carried out in that general area.

4. The developer proposes twice as much "elbow room"—3000 square feet per apartment unit—as that required by the city zoning law for an R-5 district. He has made many other concessions, including paving of the full width of Village lane east of the development. Such paving could expedite further development of the overall 117.8-acre tract. Interior streets will be maintained by the developer.

5. As a further indication of his good faith in planning the new apartments, John Defford plans to retain ownership of the land and the entire 90-acre area intact to facilitate uniform services and maintenance. Ex-

Sanitary Sewer Work to Start In GC on Feb. 5

Construction of Granite City's sanitary sewer lines in scattered sections of the city should be started by Feb. 5, Mayor Partney told the Press-Record following Monday night's city council session.

The projects are to be carried out under a $150,000 federal bond issue and will fund from the $1,500,000 federal grant. General Contracting Co. submitted the low bid of $122,804.

Mayor Partney said all easements have not yet been obtained, and that the contractor and city officials are to meet again at 7 p.m. on Feb. 1 with officials of the Housing and Urban Development agency to go over federal regulations and requirements.

The sanitary sewers are to be installed in North Granite, along Nevada avenue and the west ends of Cayuga and Denver streets, along Highway 240, and at the end of West Pontoon road, with the patrons paying tap-on fees and a $2.50 monthly rental charge.

Dr. Wilkins, Alfred Wilson Win Jaycees' Top Awards

The need for increased participation in politics at the local, state and national levels by younger men was stressed by Rep. Choate, who advocated volunteering one's services after first selecting the political party whose platform most closely represents the individual's personal viewpoint.

"Don't be a loner," he urged, "commit yourself one way or the other."

Although the state legislature appears to be the favorite target of critics, Rep. Choate said, most of the criticisms are unwarranted. The legislature cannot bow to one interest but must consider all interests, he added.

Area Leaders To Hear Details of Test Job Program

Details of President Johnson's federal test program to find jobs for the hard-core unemployed will be outlined to area representatives of private industry in a meeting to be held tomorrow by the Federal Executive Board of St. Louis and the Employment Task Force of East St. Louis, it was announced today.

The meeting will be attended by industrial representatives, city officials, news editors and civic leaders of the Quad-Cities and other sections of the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan area. The session will begin with a noon luncheon at Augustine's restaurant in Belleville.

Plans for the meeting were announced by Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, commanding officer of the Granite City Army Depot who is chairman of the Employment Task Force and also vice-chairman of the Federal Executive Board. He said purpose of the meeting is to present the new employment program to local business and industrial leaders.

The program, supervised by the U. S. Department of Commerce, already has been made applicable in Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Antonio and Washington, D. C., Colonel Hoskin said.

Jan T. Dykman, a White House Fellow and special assistant to the Secretary of Commerce, will be the principal speaker at the luncheon session. Other federal officials who will take part include Daniel Harley, regional director of the U. S. Labor Department; Andrew J. Bennett, chief of the Urban Projects Division of the Economic Development Commission; and Lloyd Kador, coordinator of financial assistance in the Small Business Administration.

Among individuals and organizations invited to attend the session are mayors of Granite City, Venice and Madison, the board of directors of the Chambers of Commerce of the Tri-Cities, representatives of Illinois Metro East and the Tri-Cities Manufacturers Assn.

Col. Hoskin said that under the program nearly $40 million initially will be made available as well as millions of dollars worth of surplus federal property and excess federal equipment to aid the program on a nationwide basis.

March of Dimes Poster Girl, Dal Maxvill To Present Benefit Bowling Awards

A top-ranked, healthy athlete and a tiny girl whose brief life history reads like a medical textbook will share the spotlight at 2 p.m. Sunday when winners of the Granite City March of Dimes Bowling Sweepstakes are honored at Bowland Lanes, 5050 Nameoki road.

Presenting six trophies Sunday to successful contestants in the March of Dimes "Junior Bowling Tournament" will be Granite City's Dal Maxvill, highly-rated shortstop for the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals. Also expected to greet area residents at the local bowling lanes is 27-month-old Stephanie Ann Szczepanik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Szczepanik of Godfrey, Birth Defects Poster Child for the 1968 Madison County March of Dimes campaign.

Exhibition Match
Those attending the awards program, which is opened to the public, may also view an exhibition match, featuring one of the country's foremost women bowlers, LaVerne Carter of St. Louis.

The former World Invitational Champion will head a team of top-flight women bowlers, including Ann Maloney, current Missouri Bowling Proprietor's champion; Mildred Stauder, past Missouri state champion and state and city all-events champion; and Gwenette Herbert and Pat McMaster.

Mrs. Carter, wife of professional bowler, Don Carter, has made numerous coast-to-coast television appearances in national bowling tournaments.

Honors collected by the St. Louisian include "National Bowler of the Year" and "World Invitational Champion." Among many other awards, she is former Missouri state titleholder.

The star-studded women's team will compete against a quintet of local male bowlers, whose appearance is being arranged by Max Legate, Bowland manager.

Local team members will include Ray Hoffman, Paul Stafford, Phil Boyer, Millard "Poo" Schwendemann and Nick Lombardi.

Interested in Youth Especially interested in programs involving youngsters, Maxvill is one of the few local athletes to achieve real prominence in professional sports. He made an early decision to combine his natural baseball talents and ambitions with an intelligent approach to college education, with the result he now holds a firm berth with the St. Louis National League Club and an electrical engineering degree from Washington University, St. Louis.

Maxvill's baseball career started out at the Granite City Khoury League team, sponsored by the Salvation Army. He went on to star at Granite City high school and at Washington University before signing a pro contract with the Cardinals organization in 1961.

He played with farm clubs at Winnipeg, Canada, Charleston, N.C., and Tulsa, Okla. He played briefly with the parent club in 1962 and rejoined the Redbirds for the entire 1963 season.

Maxvill spent part of 1964 at Jacksonville and Indianapolis until recalled by the Cardinals—not in the midst of a pennant race. The local ballyhoo contributed two key hits on Oct. 4, 1964, as the Cards defeated the New York Yankees to win the pennant on the final day of the season.

His sparkling play in the World Series this year, won over the New York Yankees. He caught the pop fly to end the final game, earning him a steady berth on the West-end roster—first as utility infielder and later as shortstop. The ballplayer is married to the former Diana Sinclair of Granite City. They are the parents of three youngsters, Kathy, Danny and Jeff.

1968 Poster Child
As this year's Birth Defects Poster Child for the Madison County March of Dimes campaign, tiny Stephanie Ann Szczepanik represents hundreds of children who are aided with funds collected in the annual drive.

At the tender age of 27 months, she already has undergone several operations, involving closing of an open spine, insertion of a Holler valve in the brain, at eight weeks, correction of bi-lateral clefted feet and, at 19 months, she was encased in a body cast to correct a congenital dislocation of the right hip.

Just two months ago, the youngster returned to the March of Dimes Treatment Center at Children's Hospital, St. Louis, for removal of the casts and presently is undergoing therapy prior to having braces fitted.

gery to correct a urinary tract abnormality.

"It is to aid children such as Stephanie that we ask all Quad-Cityans to contribute generously to the annual March of Dimes fund-raising drive," Mrs. Hagnauer stressed. "We sincerely hope everyone will turn out for Sunday's program and through their participation assist us to achieve our goal," she added.

Mrs. Enlyne Alfard and Mrs. Mary Pashea who served as co-chairmen for the "Bowling Sweepstakes," are also heading the arrangement committee for the awards program.

Names of the winning bowlers appear in a related article in this issue.

Awards Ceremony Sunday

'Bowling Sweepstakes' Winners are Announced

Winners in the March of Dimes "Bowling Tournament," conducted last week at three Granite City bowling lanes, were announced today by Mrs. Enlyne Alfard and Mrs. Mary Pashea, contest chairmen, who also reported the names of successful entrants in the locally-sponsored "Junior Bowling Contest."

Prize money, totalling $400, will be awarded winners in the men's and women's divisions, while 12 youthful contestants will receive inscribed trophies, donated by the House of Trophies.

Cash awards for both men and women are: First place, $100; second, $50; third, $25; high scratch three, $12.50; and high scratch single, $12.50.

Winning bowlers, their actual score, handicap and final total are listed in sequence.

Women's division: First—Flora Mae Lensing, 621, 67, 682; second—Terry Sanders, 561, 126, 687; third—Armie Barfield, 598, 98, 694; high scratch three—Inez Dyer, 593; and high scratch single—Marlyn Champion, 523.

Men's division: First—Walter Kafka, 712, 27, 740; second—Dean Harrell, 694, 43, 737; third—Emil Stroehde, 636, 77, 703; high scratch three—Jim Berry, 682; and high scratch single—Mike Schuler, 589.

County EOC Projects Criticized at Meet

Madison county may be losing control of its own anti-poverty programs, according to opinions voiced at a regular "informal" meeting of the county Economic Opportunity Commission, attended by only eight of the 76 members Monday night at Edwardsville.

Mrs. Fern Hornberger, vice-president who presided in the absence of James Bailey, president, questioned hiring procedures of the commission, stating that no reports are presented by the personnel committee on prospective employees in many cases. One member charged that the personnel committee does not meet at all.

Robert McCormick, a commission member, placed emphasis on obtaining Madison county leadership in future Madison-St. Clair county EOC projects, complaining that current bi-county projects are headed mostly by St. Clair residents.

Vernell Darnell, deputy director, suggested that bi-county hiring procedures be brought to the attention of the personnel committee.

Pre-Draft Quota Is 25 Men on Feb. 21st

The county selective service office at Edwardsville was advised this week there will be a Quad-City area quota for pre-induction physical examinations.

A group of 25 men is to report Feb. 21 to the county office at 132 North Kansas street for pre-draft physicals. Last Jan. 19, a group of 78 local youths was called for the pre-induction examinations.

It was announced earlier this month that there would be no pre-induction quota. The draft call for 1968 was scheduled to be inducted on Feb. 16. In January, 12 Quad-Cityans were drafted.

Bus Loop Sought In W. Madison, N. Venice Area

A request for public bus transportation through a West Madison-North Venice loop will be made to the Bi-State Transit System by the city of Madison, according to plans outlined at a Madison city council meeting Tuesday night.

Fifth Ward Alderman John Haynes told the council that residents of the area currently must walk a half-mile or more to the bus line on Broadway in St. Louis, he said.

Mayor Stephen Maeras told Haynes he would arrange a conference with the transit authority to provide improved service for residents of that area.

The council instructed the city legal department to draw an ordinance prohibiting parking of motor vehicles on the city streets at any time of the day or night.

Mayor Maeras noted increasing nuisance complaints over the practice by some motorists to dump oil and grease from dripping oil and grease from damaged some sections of pavement.

Free City Stickers

The mayor reported that city vehicle stickers will be available soon and will continue to be free, even though the city no longer has bridge revenue.

"We still have a cushion," he said.

No comment was made at the meeting on a suit against the city by 13 trucking companies seeking to recover $168,444 in tolls paid for use of the city-owned Chain of Rocks Bridge.

The council decided to obtain a special radio receiver with a hook-up with the St. Louis weather bureau to receive a special radio warning plan. The receivers cost $175 to $250.

Special broadcasts are to be made for the weather area at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. daily on 162 megacycles. The plan, to be used by St. Louis county municipalities, was explained in a letter from George M. Brancato, chief meteorologist.

Three motor fuel tax resolutions for improvement and maintenance of arterial streets, with city-wide sidewalk removal and replacement, were adopted by the council and will be forwarded to the state division of highways for approval.

Mayor Maeras reported that four such resolutions will appropriate a total of $31,279, with the last still to be drawn to provide for repaving of 12th street from Madison avenue to Grand avenue.

Though the city is credited with only $40,000 a year as its share of motor fuel taxes, the mayor said the city will have the money it spends on the projects returned in three or four years.

A copy of a letter from the State Public Health Department showed that basic facilities of the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. were found to be generally satisfactory on the basis of a survey made Dec. 12.

Source of Phenol
The mayor complained that the source of phenol being dumped into the river, which affects the taste of water, is still undetermined.

Mayor Maeras told the council that he had convinced Granite City Mayor Partney in an effort to remove a $7.50 quarterly sewage treatment tax being charged six Madison resi-

Services Saturday for Miss Alvina Stricker

Memorial services will be held Saturday for Miss Alvina "Venice" Stricker, 85, of Portland, Ore., who died of a heart ailment on Jan. 15, in Portland, where she resided with a niece. She was a former resident of Granite City and East St. Louis and was bookkeeper for the Lee Shop.

Among the survivors are a nephew, Henry Stricker, of Granite City; three nieces, Miss Jessie Mallescu of Portland, Mrs. Clarence (Marie) Harris of Carlyle, Ill., and Mrs. James (Josephine) Adams of Edwardsville; and several great-nieces and great-grand-nephews and nieces.

Arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

GC Sailor Aboard Ship Returned from Vietnam

Marine Master Fireman William R. Smith, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton J. Smith of 2829 Edgewood avenue, returned to the United States aboard the amphibious assault carrier USS Tripoli following an eight-month deployment off the coast of Vietnam.

While off the coast of Vietnam the Tripoli served as a unit of the U. S. Seventh Fleet's Amphibious Ready Group "Bravo." The carrier recorded over 800 landings on its flight deck in support of U. S. and Allied ground forces engaged in combat operations.

He said Madison has jurisdiction in maintaining the lanes, which connect with Granite City sewers.

He noted that three Granite City households were permitted to connect onto Madison sewer lines years ago at no cost. The mayor said that Mayor Partney was agreeable to elimination of the tax to the Madison residents, but that there has been disagreement in the Granite City council over the matter.

A request by the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois to conduct a door-to-door solicitation for crippled children on March 7-10 was approved.

Another request, by the Granite City chapter of Beta Sigma Phi to install an 18x24 inch steel welcome sign at Third street and McCambridge avenue, was approved provided it creates no traffic hazards or problems.

son road from Franklin avenue around the curve, and north to Pontoon road. The state notified the city Monday that an allocation of $80,000 MTT funds for planning and other details has been approved.

Drainage and sidewalks are to be included in the overall project, and arrangements also are to be planned for the opening of the Wabash avenue parkway at Johnson road.

The council gave its approval to seek motor fuel tax funds for improvement of Waterman avenue with a 36-foot bituminous roadway, curbs and drainage from Wabash avenue to Madison road. An appropriation of $50,000 will be sought from the state for the work.

Incinerator Room Blaze Damages Bakery

Fire in the incinerator room at Black's Bakery, 20th street and Delmar avenue, caused several thousand dollars damage yesterday. Firemen were on the scene an hour and confined the blaze to the room.

Kenneth Black, proprietor, said most of the damage was caused by smoke. "The firemen did a good job in putting out the blaze," he remarked.

It is believed the fire started when blaring paper from the incinerator fell to the floor touching off a pile of scrap paper.

Traffic Charge
Marshall Switzer, 1765 Venice avenue, was issued an arrest ticket on Madison avenue this morning by Granite City police on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without tailights.

SIU-SW Cougars Down Park Flyers

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus Cougars fashioned their third basketball victory in a row Monday night by defeating Parks Air College 91-71 on the Flyers' home court at Cahokia.

The win also lifted coach Harry Gallatin's cages, over the 500 mark for the first time this season and gave them back-to-back conquests over the hapless airmen. Bringing the new record to 4 and 3.

SIU-SW's entire squad saw action in the contest. The Cougars hit on 23 of 37 charity tosses, while the Flyers netted 17 of 29.

The Cougars jumped ahead at the outset and never relinquished the lead. They were threatened once, though, in the latter part of the first half, when three quick field goals and a couple of free throws by the Flyers drew them within two points of the Cougars at 25-27.

However, the Catmen quickly returned the compliment with a couple of fast-break scores and continued to race to a 50-32 halftime edge.

Forward Gary Collins was high-point man for SIU-SW with 18. Four other teammates also were in double figures.

The Cougars face Northeast Missouri State Teachers College next at Kirksville on Feb. 10.

Tickets for Warrior-Kahok Game at GC

Tickets for the GCHS vs. Collinsville basketball game will be sold today until 4 p.m. to local residents who wish to see the game.

All seats will be reserved, with the remaining going on sale at the door Friday night. Game time is 8 p.m. at the memorial gym. Because the game is generally sold out, interested persons are being urged to purchase their tickets at once.

87-32 Trojan Tournament Victory; Venice in Consolation Division

Back in their best scoring form, the Madison basketball Trojans crushed Vandalia 87-32 in the opening game of the first Litchfield invitational tournament last night and advanced to a semifinal game with Hillsboro at 7 o'clock to night. The other semifinal pairs Wood River and Litchfield at 8:30 tonight.

The championship game is set for 8:30 p.m. Saturday. Venice's Red Devils were outscored 78-63 by Wood River last night and will meet the Madison-Hillsboro loser at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Vandalia will oppose the Wood River-Litchfield loser at 7 p.m. Friday. The consolation title game will be played at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Held to 12-24 edge in the first quarter, Madison sprinted to 32-15 halftime and 63-24 third-period leads. Coach Harland Schenck related that "we were slow getting going, but our press eventually was effective enough to make them turn the ball over to us 30 times."

Gary Lusk led with 31 points, Joe Collins had 19, Keith Williams nine, Tom Weston seven, Jim Scott six, Titus Shipp and endum steering committee, Supt. Davis said he will send letters to various organizations and ask them to choose representatives.

Richard Huff, an American Federation of Teachers salary and policy committee member who said he was speaking as an individual, contended that the district's "not moving fast enough."

Noting that the AFT agreed to a three-year pact a year and a half ago, Huff said he was with the understanding that during the period of "peace in the district" the board would proceed with a referendum. He cited the scheduled resumption of negotiations in 1968-69.

E. W. Walton, acting board president, said he expects there to be a referendum this spring. George Moore, who said much time has been devoted to the construction planning as well as to negotiations with other employee groups.

Role for Public
Supt. Davis urged that public be given a voice. Huff said he had no specific salary recommendation but that he had feared the steering committee plan might delay the referendum.

In the expansion of the administrative staff, Supt. Davis said it is necessary due to "the increased amount of coordination needed with our various programs, the building program we must soon face, and the various coming in the next year."

MORE ABOUT Parents Protest protesting parents clarify their grievances in writing and request a meeting with the school board, if this is what they want," Supt. Pler said.

Works Both Ways

"Integration works both ways," the spokesman said. "There are a few people who did not want to send their youngsters across the tracks to Lincoln school, so they decided to transfer, the Lincoln youngsters here," Mrs. Henry added. "Sure they are integrated, which is the way it should be, but why do the children have to attend classes in a place such as the Legion hall when a good school building, already available, stands empty?" the spokesman told a Press-Record reporter.

To comply with a U. S. Department of Justice directive, ordering the Venice school district to fully integrate all schools by Monday, Jan. 22, school officials elected temporarily to locate kindergarten and educable mentally handicapped classes outside the Broadway campus in adjacent buildings.

Two Other Buildings

Reassignment of classroom space in the Venice-Madison American Legion hall and at Venice Boy Scout headquarters was announced earlier this month by School Board President Michael E. Leatherman. Both buildings are situated on the same block as the Venice grade and high schools.

Leatherman said earlier, the decision to house the pupils outside the school building was reached by board members when it was learned that construction of the nine-classroom addition at Venice school would not be completed by the transfer date agreed upon with federal authorities last October.

Some opposition to the Venice district's consolidation proposal was evidenced at the school board's Oct. 2 meeting, attended by more than 100 Venice residents, when the merger plan initially was announced. At that time, however, in response to questions from several Negro parents, the school officials maintained the position that construction of a new three classroom addition above an existing wing at Venice grade school and an additional six classroom facility would be finished by the start of the spring semester this week.

Delayed by Weather

Inclement weather, plus time involved in acquiring bids on the project, delayed the construction work, Leatherman said. A check at the construction site yesterday showed only the outer walls of the second floor addition and footings for the new six room wing so far completed.

At the public meeting in Oc-

PICKETS AT VENICE SCHOOL, protesting placement of pupils in Venice-Madison American Legion hall and crowded conditions at Venice school, increased to 35 demonstrators yesterday from only two on Monday.

tober, Venice officials also announced that following the merger of students, Lincoln school would be equipped and operated as a vocational-training center, maintained with state funds, with instruction available to all Madison county residents.

Until purchase of training equipment is approved by state authorities and installation has been completed, the school is being operated for evening classes only, with Venice educators hopeful of scheduling regular daytime sessions within a few weeks. Illinois public education officials conferred Tuesday with Supt. Pler on plans for the vocational center.

Can't See Federal Stand

Asked his reaction to the fact that federal officials approved the Venice district's integration plan through merger of all Negro parents, the school officials maintained the position that construction of a new three classroom addition above an existing wing at Venice grade school and an additional six classroom facility would be finished by the start of the spring semester this week.

Also questioned on whether establishment of a vocational training center at Lincoln wouldn't greatly benefit Negro and white youths, especially high school dropouts who need further training to get a job, Mrs. Henry said, "It probably will, but if anyone is going to suffer right now for Lincoln of proper classrooms, it should be adults not the children."

"They (adults) don't need lunch room facilities and a gymnasium which Lincoln has. Here, the children are overcrowded in the classrooms and eat lunch in a packed cafeteria," she added. One sign carried by a picket stated that only 15 minutes lunch period is allowed due to the increased number of students.

Other signs bore comments, such as — "Children are not Soldiers. Why use Tazed Facilities as the American Legion Hall for Classrooms, Madison County CORE asks the Federal Government to Intervene," and "Give Us Our Legal Rights, Integrate Lincoln School."

Merger of the 202 Lincoln pupils into the Venice school has necessitated several temporary changes from previous classroom assignments. Changes include transfer of two eighth grade classes into the connected high school building, with one group occupying a classroom previously assigned to the school nurse and the second class in an area formerly used for health instruction, contain a total of 43 students.

Other provisional measures taken by the Venice board of education include locating of first and second grade pupils in the high school chorus room and gymnasium area.

Man Robbed, Beer Truck Looted In Area Crimes

Grant Thompson, 48, of 1227 Iowa street, Madison, reported that he was the victim of three men in an alleged strong-arm robbery and aggravated battery early Tuesday morning, according to the Madison county Sheriff's office.

Thompson said he had left the Village tavern at Eagle Park across with the three to go to an East St. Louis tavern, but that he was beaten and robbed on the way and was put out of their auto, a rusty 1951 or 1952 model, at 15th street and Bond avenue in East St. Louis.

Thompson said he did not know the location of the attack, but said he could identify the three and would sign a complaint.

Beer Truck Looted

Marvin Stornor of Belleville, driver of a beer truck owned by Jul Fisher Distributing Co. of Belleville, reported at 12:40 p.m. Monday that two youths took a double eight-pack of beer from his truck while he was in Yonch's tavern, 849 Niedringhaus avenue.

He said the boys were 16 and 17 years old and were well dressed. They ran through some yards and Stornor lost them, he said.

A 1963 auto reported stolen from Barbara Wilson, 2330 Iowa street, at 6:25 p.m. Monday was found an hour later at 22nd street and the railroad crossing. Taken from the auto were coats, woman's boots and a camera and some chrome was damaged. The car was taken from St. Elizabeth Hospital parking lot.

11:35 p.m. Monday by John

Turner, proprietor. Patrol officers found a door forced open at the building of Joseph Cells at 2400 Edwards street, at 3:25 a.m. Tuesday. A tenant said the owner is in Texas and it was unknown if anything was missing.

Faye Giles, 1620 Wellington drive, Mitchell, reported at 6:15 a.m. Wednesday that a four-barrel carburetor was stolen from her 1967 auto while it was parked in her garage during the night.

Two Autos Stolen

Thefts of two autos were reported within an hour last night to Granite City police. Mrs. Alfred Johnson, 4542 Johnson road, reported at 10 p.m. that her 1964 light green, four-door auto had been stolen off a lot at St. Elizabeth Hospital, and at 11 p.m. Gerald Krug, 2920 Cayuga street, reported his blue four-door auto had been stolen from a parking place on 18th street at the Union Star and Refining Co. plant.

Upon being notified that an alarm was ringing on a pay telephone, police went to 16th street and Cleveland Blvd., where they found the dial had been broken off a phone in a booth. The police department was notified of the alarm by the telephone company. The money box had not been disturbed.

A black suit, size 38, and a pair of brown trousers were stolen from the parked auto of Robert Douglas, 512 Jefferson street, Madison, while the auto was in the 3000 block of Maryville road, it was reported to police yesterday afternoon.

Council Again

performed in this field, he regards such an approach as important in "keeping the tenants satisfied."

6. The developer legally can proceed with the project without council approval by rearranging some of the units in the site plan, and is considering doing so. However, this would cause more crowding than originally planned, resulting in less desirable facilities, hardly the goal of the aldermen or of the community.

7. The slight zoning variation sought stems from the fact that financing is unavailable and may never be available for development of the entire 117.8 acres as a single unit, taking. Some adjustment is appropriate now that sections are being sold separately for development.

128 Apartments, Big Pool. The site plan for the 9.07-acre tract shows 24 two-bedroom town house units, 40 two-bedroom two-story apartments and 64 one-bedroom apartments. Also included are laundry-utility building and a swimming pool.

The town houses are to include two bathrooms. Some three-bedroom units are under consideration, replacing some of the two-bedroom town house plans.

Monthly rent is to range from $120 to $165. There are to be 256 parking places, or two for each apartment.

Defford, the developer, has been associated with construction of more than 100 apartment buildings in St. Louis and in Illinois and Missouri during the past nine years, among them the Lewis and Clark Village apartments adjacent to Highway 67 in St. Louis county.

In addition to apartment developments in St. Louis and similar projects in Champaign, Ill., and Kirksville, Mo., he was instrumental in building Lincoln Square, the largest shopping center in Jacksonville, Ill.

His work has been featured in the magazine, "Progressive Builder."

History of Project. While he has been involved only since last year, the history of the site goes back two and a half years.

The original report to the city council by the City Planning Commission Aug. 15, 1965, unanimously recommended approval of annexation and rezoning as sought for a 117.8-acre tract by Laddo, Inc., Gibson Lumber Co., Art McFarland & Associates, et al.

Plans called for "a" internal dwelling area, a large shopping center and a large residential area.

The petitioners have not yet formally developed an engineering plot plan for development of the property, as this would cost in excess of $3000. They petitioned for land use which will guarantee the general principle of the development prior to the expenditure required for exact plot plan layout.

The zoning Subcommittee's recommendation (not agreed to by the full Planning Commission) was a variation on the petition as filed for rezoning.

"This recommendation was to grant R-4 use for that requested as R-5 and C-1 until such time as the engineering layout could be provided. It was suggested that the city execute an agreement with the petitioners specifying that the usage will be granted upon acceptance of a reasonable plan for the development.

"No one appeared in opposition to the petition for annexation and rezoning. The Planning Commission believes that this tract of land will be a substantial addition to the growth of the city and that, if properly developed, will provide much-needed multiple-dwelling facilities for our city's expanding population."

A Jan. 15, 1968, Planning Commission report on the current proposal relates that "a petition was received at the December (1967) meeting from Granite City Village Apartments, Inc., per John Defford, for rezoning of a 150x256.37-foot R-3 strip... to R-5 to permit the building of three four-unit town house apartment buildings and a swimming pool."

R-3 Only Until Plan. "The original 150x256.37-foot strip was zoned in late 1965 during the original annexation of the 117.8 acres of land by the City of Granite City. The purpose of the R-3 zoning was as a buffer zone to the R-5 zoning granted in the interior of the tract, pending development of an overall master plan."

No master plan has ever been submitted on this property since its annexation, probably due to the financial inability of the annexing petitioners to develop it as a single unit. Sizeable individual tracts are now being sold for development.

"Mr. Defford's petition for R-5 rezoning of the R-3 buffer strip was based on the city's development plan, a sizeable apartment project of 128 units covering 9.07 acres of ground."

"The project is not to be subdivided but will be built and owned as a unit, with all interior streets being maintained by the developer and the only streets to be dedicated to the public being Village Lane as an unconnected extension of the two-block-long Village Lane now existing in Wilshire sub-division outside the city limits."

Problems Resolved. "During the consideration of this rezoning petition, several problems arose and the petition was tabled and considered at three different meetings. One problem was whether Village Lane was to be paved to its full width or only in half-width, since the developer owned only half the width of the tract."

"Mr. Defford solved this problem by obtaining an easement deed from the adjoining landowner, dedicating Village Lane to the public. And Mr. Defford has agreed to pave the full width of the property for the length of the property, some 580 feet."

The second problem concerned the 100-foot "green belt" strip which Mr. Defford anticipated leaving between the back lot line of the Eighth Addition to Cloverleaf's Lots 7 to 13 and a 150-foot strip on which he intended to build the three town houses and the swimming pool.

"In order to make certain that the green belt strip would be built upon, Mr. Defford has

Hospital is Testing Electronic Linen Patching Machine

A machine to electronically apply cloth patches to small holes or tears in hospital linen is being used on a trial basis at St. Elizabeth Hospital. It was announced today.

Michael Gulash, who directs processing the nearly 1,000,000 pounds of laundry per year at the local hospital, said the machine applies patches which last for the life of the linen. The cost of the machine is approximately $700, but it is expected to take the place of a recent retiree in the Sewing Department. Not only does the device apply patches in sizes up to eight inches square, it also works in the same manner as an iron-on applique, Gulash explained.

Mrs. Mildred Diffenauer, who is operating the test equipment, says it also is easier on the material than sewing when the needle must pierce the cloth. After this machine has been tested, a similar piece of equipment is to be checked. Then the best machine will be selected and placed in permanent operation.

offered both a letter of intent, dated Jan. 11, and an "easement deed" which will dedicate to the city the 100x53.37-foot strip for the benefit of the public and the adjoining owners to restrict the use thereof to create a green belt buffer zone.

Useful To City. "This 100-foot wide strip currently contains an open drainage depression or ditch, which currently carries the groundwater runoff and which might be used for the development of a stormwater drain at such point in the future as separation of storm and sanitary sewers can be made in this area of the city."

"After thoroughly considering all aspects of this petition, the Planning Commission unanimously voted to approve the R-5 rezoning, not as petitioned for of the 150-foot R-3 zoning."

"This 50-foot R-5 strip will be adequate for Mr. Defford's development and it is recommended that the 100-foot green belt buffer zone easement be dedicated to the public as Mr. Defford has offered."

"It is the belief of the Planning Commission that the 100-foot buffer zone green belt strip offers as much protection to the residents of the Eighth Addition to Cloverleaf as would a row of R-3 single dwellings, which should not be located in this low-lying drainage area. The only objection to this petition was Attorney William Beatty."

R-3 single-family dwelling district regulations in Ordinance 1753, the Granite City zoning law, call for 5000 square feet for a one-family house or 2500 square feet per family for a two-family dwelling.

R-5 multiple dwelling rules specify 4000 square feet for a single-family dwelling, 2000 square feet for a two-family structure or 1500 square feet per family for a multiple dwelling.

Higher Pay for GC Substitute Teachers

The Granite City school voted last night to increase the daily pay of substitute teachers employed consecutively for 20 days or less.

Substitutes with degrees will receive $28 as of Feb. 5 and those without degrees will get $22.50 starting Feb. 5 and $26 in the next school year. Present rates are $21 and $15.50, in effect since 1964.

If a substitute teacher works in the same position for more than 20 continuous days, he then is placed on the regular salary schedule retroactive to the first day. The regular schedule also is paid where a substitute takes a class to which no teacher has been assigned.

It was noted that parents filling out questionnaires on fall parent-teacher conferences had requested separate polling places within all municipalities, special Madison and Pontoon Beach pools were eliminated for the April 13 board election.

The 15 voting places will be the 15 grade schools. Residents of the school will vote where their children do attend or would attend grade school, with an exception at the Parkway Addition of the Pontoon area and Arlington Heights will vote at Stallings school instead of at the school.

High school cheerleader uniforms are to be replaced for the next school year, Supr. Bob J. Davis said. Athletic equipment purchases were made following a conference with James Merriam, head football coach.

Landscaping of the Coolidge junior high school front was approved by the council. Financing was authorized, and it was noted that improvement of grounds at other schools also is being considered.

Teachers hired were: Mrs. Marilyn Joyce Fitch, 414 Madison, who holds a bachelor's degree from San Jose, Calif. State, Nameoki first grade effective tomorrow.

Alten R. Kennedy, 1812 August street, SIU bachelor degree, junior high school staff beginning Jan. 26. Miss Janet Arlene Pickard, Route Three, Thompsonville, Ill., SIU bachelor degree, Stallings third grade effective March 18.

Mrs. Phyllis Jean Crews, 2540 State street, SIU bachelor degree, effective March 18, beginning with the new term in August.

And Robert E. Pyle, 8 Terrace lane, SIU bachelor degree, mathematics staff effective with the new term in August.

Mrs. Emma Mae Schleuter, 3345 Johnson road, was named a cafeteria employee starting today.

The board accepted the Jan. 19 resignation of Janet Freese, a Stallings teacher, due to illness.

Leave of absence effective April 5 was granted Mrs. Karen Smith, a Granite City high school physical education teacher.

Building rental requests were approved for Johnson Music Co. and GCHS auditorium Feb. 27; Granite City Junior Service club fashion show April 2, with rehearsal April 1, GCHS auditorium; and a Wilshire Manor state with most located in the northern and southern parts. Organization now is needed in the center of the state, he added.

He stressed the importance of Junior Colleges to provide manpower training. The Junior Colleges, he explained, would serve as needed post-high school training centers to provide occupational, vocational and semi-technical training as well as providing general education courses in liberal arts and sciences and adult and continuing education programs.

The training would include such fields as x-ray technicians, laboratory technicians, nursing and computer technology.

Dr. MacVicar told the audience that Junior Colleges could be the answer to enrollment restrictions being placed on regular colleges. He added that a Junior College in this area would not reduce enrollment at the new SIU-SU campus and that it was SIU's intent to support the educational opportunity and give full cooperation to Junior Colleges as a means of providing individuals with the know-how to get jobs—furthering advancing economic development in the area.

In the highly-industrialized Granite City and Alton areas, technical education programs are needed if the area's industrial plants are to grow and others are to be located here, the SIU vice-president emphasized.

MacVicar stated that SIU was not planning to expand its technical institute near Carbondale nor formulate such a program at the Southwestern.

SIU Cooperative Policy. Speaking briefly for President Morris, Dr. Keane said the SIU board of trustees at its last meeting adopted a policy to encourage and facilitate Junior Colleges.

Dr. Morris will be back from his inspection tour overseas SIU programs and will express his views. Before he left, he suggested the adoption of such a policy.

Development of a high school level area occupational career center in the Alton area would not replace a Junior College, Dr. Johnson explained. He said the state's plan for such a center is for high school level students only to provide an equal opportunity for high school students to get vocational training.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Supr. Trimpe called for comments, and was told by county superintendents of Jersey, Calhoun and Macoupin counties that while they favored such a program, there is the need to convince the people of the areas of the necessity for Junior College.

With the Feb. 27 meeting to determine how extensive the Lewis and Clark Junior College District will be, a March 26 deadline was set to evaluate commitments to determine the necessity of making a revised study.

Next April 30 will be the deadline for communities to either not replace a Junior College or request to be left out of the new junior college district, and May 25 is the deadline for return of petitions.

In June, petitions are to be tabulated and presented to the Illinois Junior College Board and July will be needed for action by the state Board of Higher Education.

September would be reserved for hearings and the election would be scheduled for December or for January 1969.

Speeding Charges Filed. Dennis L. Gibson, 2381 Mirabeau, was arrested on a speeding charge at Manley avenue and Johnson road at 11:15 p.m. Monday.

Deadline Is

centage basis in Godfrey, Foster, Helvelia, Marine, Olive, Pin Oak and New Douglas townships.

While review board officials said an exact figure is not yet available pending board action on protests, the overall increase in all nine townships amounts to approximately $10 million.

Hilt explained that this may be all of the actual increase in assessed values since 1964, a 1.0 multiplier if property assessments are between 99% and 101% of full, fair cash value. He explained that the $223 million in value which the state specified as needed in Madison county was based on 100%.

The requirement of 99%, or 1% less than the $223 millions specified by the state, would reduce the required $28 million by $230,000. This together with the $19 millions in increased values, would make up the $28 millions and meet state requirements.

At this point, however, the entire picture depends upon the amount of valuation increase sustained by the review board after it studies protests.

Township assessors were warned by the state revenue department a year ago that they must adjust assessment ratios to a minimum of 99% of full cash value if the county was to retain its 1.0 multiplier. The review board said many townships continued assessing at a lower ratio, some of them as low as 35%.

The delay in completing assessment books for 1967 will result in a delay in completion of tax books for collections that usually get under way in May or June. The board of review will be six weeks behind its usual schedule by the Feb. 13 deadline for completing its work. Last year the county clerk had received all of the assessment books, had examined them and had begun computing tax extensions by mid-July.

But this year her office cannot begin tax extension work until the assessment books are received from the board of review.

The delay developed because the 1967 property assessment is based on a quadrennial assessment of all real estate property, requiring considerably more work than the annual extension of personal property valuations.

Noted that the county clerk had received all of the assessment books, had examined them and had begun computing tax extensions by mid-July.

Council Debates, Then Votes On New Apartments

Granite City council members, who last week ignored a recommendation for a $1,300,000 apartment development south of East Pontoon road, voted on the proposal when it was resubmitted Monday night.

While the aldermen remained silent last night, refusing to vote a second time on the acceptance motion, they spoke out Monday night, voicing objections and then rejecting by a vote of 8-4 the zone change recommendation by the City Planning Commission.

Several aldermen said during the discussion they were not familiar with the details for the 128 apartment units, indicating the proposal by John Defford, St. Louis developer, may come up for consideration again.

Financial arrangements to be made by the developer, who is asking the city to zone 50 feet of a 150-foot buffer strip for apartment units, instead of single family dwellings. He is offering the city the remaining 100 feet as a "green belt" buffer.

"Good Tax Base." In resubmitting the Village Apartments proposal, Alderman Rutledge, chairman of the council's Planning committee, commented Monday night—"It's difficult to see how you can turn this down. Here's an added tax base for the city of over a million dollars. We should have some discussion outlined."

It is estimated the city tax income from the developed property could amount to $25,000 a year. Alderman Whitmer, who seconded Rutledge's motion, said, "I was in the dark last week, but after finding out some of the details I can see nothing wrong with the project. Who will maintain the buffer strip, though?" he asked.

He was answered by several aldermen and Mayor Partney that it would be the city's responsibility. Whitmer remarked that he was "always leery when someone wants to give property to the city."

Eight Ward Alderman Dawes said he was objecting because of people who have $30,000 to $35,000 homes in the vicinity of the tract. "They've been told there would be a 150-foot buffer strip with single family homes, and now 80 feet is wanted for apartments."

Joining the discussion, Sixth Ward Alderman Parmley said he was against the city's getting the tract. "It will be just another green belt like the parkway along St. Clair avenue. There should be a playground there, plenty of trees in the Sixth Ward near Worthen Park." Parmley also said he noticed the plan did not show a sidewalk on both sides of Village Lane. "Our subdivision law calls for that."

Rutledge replied that the developer did not own both sides of the street and actually had obtained an easement so a full street could be paved.

"He should get an easement for the sidewalk, too," Parmley remarked.

The other Eighth Ward Aldermen, Ford Johnson, said he had seen a sketch for a layout plan and was not sure of the full site and favored it. "Before Pontoon Plan apartments were built, we required a buffer strip of dwellings between it and existing homes in Cloverleaf. And, the people living along Pontoon road are not happy about the drainage problems now."

Alderman Basarich commented that the apartments might be nice when new, but he could see them being rented to all sorts of people, "gangsters and hoodlums." Neen added, "People out there have a lot of money invested in their homes. Do you want the same thing that happened here?"

The last remarks before the roll call vote were by Johnson, who said the street department would not have enough men to maintain the buffer zone. "And remember," he continued, "The people don't want this."

Voting for the City Planning Commission recommendation were Aldermen Whitmer, Rutledge, Ford and Jarrett, of Madison County. Aldermen Johnson, Poulos, Green, Basarich, Neen, Partney, Dawes and Johnson, of St. Louis, were excused for illness, and Bartosik, who had departed for another meeting.

A. O. Smith-Union Talks to Continue Tomorrow

Contract talks between A. O. Smith Corp. and Boilermakers Union Local 578 are scheduled to continue tomorrow (Feb. 26) in an effort to agree on the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service at St. Louis, it was reported today.

The meeting was arranged after a five-hour negotiation session yesterday in which "some progress" was reported. The union and company negotiating committees are meeting with Chandler Flier and Robert Gomard, federal mediators in efforts to agree on a new union contract and end a walkout of more than 1200 members of the union.

Operations at the A. O. Smith plant, which manufactures auto frames for General Motors, have been shut down since the strike began Jan. 1. Tomorrow's meeting will be the third with federal mediators. The 25 days the strike has been under way.

Reservations are being accepted at the Associated Retailers office, 1831 Delmar avenue.

RR Engineer Dies In Room at YMCA

Alfred E. Miller, 66, of 504 South Race street, Atlanta, Ill., a GMAO Railroad engineer, was found dead in his third-floor room at the local YMCA on Monday afternoon.

He was pronounced dead at the scene at 4:05 p.m. by Madison County Coroner Leonard R. Davis, who said death probably resulted from a heart attack. An inquest is pending.

Miller, 66, of Miller's train crew report he had completed a 16-hour work shift early Monday morning and had checked into the room at 8 a.m. When attempts to arouse him failed later that afternoon, Vernon Tharp, YMCA manager, was summoned and entered the sleeping room with a pass key.

Mr. Miller, a native of Longdale, Ill., is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cora (Lower) Miller, of Atlanta, Ill.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Rites Held Monday for W. H. 'Bill' Barton, 85

Funeral services were held in St. Louis Monday for William H. "Bill" Barton, 85, a retired employee of the Illinois Terminal Railroad and a resident of Granite City for many years. Mr. Barton died in Lutheran Hospital, St. Louis, where he had been a patient two weeks.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Gussie B. Ross, a long-time former resident of Granite City now living in St. Louis, and Mrs. Lucille B. Taylor, St. Louis, and a sister Mrs. Teresa Bertram.

Mr. Barton, who lived in Granite City for 40 years prior to his retirement in 1942, was a member of Masonic Lodge AF&AM 877. He had lived in St. Louis for the past seven years. Burial was in Sunset Memorial Cemetery, St. Louis.

In-Service Training Course Set at Alton State Hospital

Mrs. Marjorie Dintelmann, volunteer services coordinator of Alton State Hospital, said "In-Service Training for volunteers (both individual and group) will be held Thursday, Feb. 8, in the recreation hall, with registration at 10:30 a.m."

Robert Connell, coordinator of therapy training and education, of Alton State will be a guest speaker at 11 a.m., and Richard Clark, health educator for the Alcoholic Treatment Center, also at Alton State, will speak at 1:15 p.m. His topic will cover "What is Alcoholism and What Is the Treatment Program?"

The in-service training session provides a learning experience about the hospital programs and procedures, which helps the volunteer to be an understanding friend to the patients, Mrs. Dintelmann said.

Those planning to attend are requested to make a reservation with the Volunteer Services Department before 3 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 7. Also, volunteers are to bring a covered dish and their own table service for the noon luncheon. Coffee will be served. The training session will adjourn at 2:30 p.m.

Orientation classes for new volunteers has been scheduled for Feb. 14, from 9 a.m. to noon; and Feb. 21, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The program will be announced at a later date.

"No special or outstanding talent is needed to become a volunteer. Interested persons may contact the Volunteer Services office for an interview. Volunteers participate in numerous areas involved in the over-all treatment program, and are under staff supervision," Mrs. Dintelmann said.

Family Seeks Help in Finding Children's Pet

Mrs. Thelma Hilton, 2157 Edison avenue, appealed yesterday for help in locating her children's pet Pekingese which has been missing for the past month. Mrs. Hilton said her five children have been heartbroken over the dog's disappearance and efforts to find it have been unsuccessful.

Mrs. Hilton said the dog, a registered male Pekingese, was let out of the house about a week before Christmas and has not been seen again. The dog is cream-colored and about seven months old.

"The children are really broken up over the dog's absence," Mrs. Hilton said. "We have advertised and checked all of the dog shelters, but have been unable to locate the pet."

She said the family would pay a reward "with no questions asked," to anyone returning the dog.

There are still a few openings in the Tuesday morning-Thursday morning class.

Boards of Amsted, U. S. Gypsum Co. Agree on Merger

Directors of United States Gypsum Co. and Amsted Industries have approved the merger of two companies. The local American Steel Foundries plant is part of Amsted Industries.

The action was reported Tuesday in a joint statement issued in Chicago by Graham J. Morgan, president of United Steel Gypsum, and Joseph B. Lanterman, Amsted's president.

Under terms of the agreement, Gypsum would issue nine-tenths of a share of its common stock for each share of Amsted stock in a tax-free transaction.

The companies on Dec. 21 announced an agreement in principle to merge the two companies, with Gypsum to be the surviving entity. The merger agreement adopted by the boards of directors will be submitted for approval at stockholder meetings of each of the companies on May 8, 1968.

To Enlarge Operations

"The basic objective of the merger," the two executives commented, "is to enlarge the scope of operations of both companies thereby multiplying their opportunities for growth, with resulting benefits for all of the stockholders."

Combined sales of the companies amounted to more than $600,000,000 in 1967.

Gypsum, widely recognized as a leader in the building materials field, also produces a substantial range of industrial products. It operates 100 plants in the United States and Canada.

Amsted has 33 plants and is diversified manufacturer of railroad components, roller chain, water transmission products, machine tools and other items for industry.

Seabee Nesbit Leaves For Duty in Vietnam

Builder Second Class G. Michael Nesbit, husband of Mrs. Charlotte Nesbit and son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nesbit, 2907 Warren avenue, left this week for duty with the Seabees in the Da Nang area of Vietnam.

He completed his basic training in Gulfport, Miss., and was sent to Camp Lejeune, N.C., where he received advanced military training. His last two weeks training was completed at Keeler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Miss., where he qualified as an expert with the M-16 and M-14 rifle and with a new automatic weapon called the "bee hive."

Friends may write to him at his new address, Bur2/G.M. Nesbit, USN B33 03 22 MCB 62 "C" Co., FPO New York, N.Y. 09501.

City Grows by 5 Lots; Oks Zoning For Gas Station

Ordinances annexing five lots along Zippel avenue in Dream Villa subdivision and rezoning a lot at 3051 Washington avenue for a service station were approved Monday night by Granite City council members.

The council also went on to approve, with the city engineer's sanction, the 13-lot first addition to Wilson Park Estates subdivision that was held up last week.

Annexation of the five lots was requested by Henry Ross of HWR Development Co. for four and Mrs. Michael Lombardi for the fifth lot.

The zoning change for a residence at 3051 Washington avenue was requested by Rosyoki Realty Co. for a Clark Service station and was approved two weeks ago by the City Plan Commission, whose members noted there was no objection.

However, the change was opposed by Seventh Ward Alderman Jarrett, who said he had talked to a number of residents adjacent to the property and they objected to the location of a gas station there. He called for deferral, but failed to get a second. He and Alderman Fry voted against the ordinance for the zone change from R-3 residential to C-1 commercial.

Several other aldermen noted widespread commercial developments, and Nonn called upon Leo Konzen, lawyer, who was the audience's representative. Konzen told council members that commercial developments were occurring all along Nameoki road.

Jarrett said most of the residents in the vicinity of the proposed gas station were opposed to it, and added, "How would you like to live next door to a filling station that's open until midnight?"

Nonn replied, "Clark doesn't build junky stations. They keep to their property, and this station will mean added income to Granite City. Konzen added that there had been no objections until Jarrett brought them up Monday night."

Reviewed by Engineer

The first addition to Wilson Park Estates subdivision is being developed by the Reinhardt Agency, and approval was held up last week to permit the city engineer to review the plot plans.

The city was notified by East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. that a fire hydrant has been installed on the southeast corner of Nameoki road and Victoria street.

Permission was given the Southwest Eastern Seal Society to conduct its plant campaign to aid the handicapped March 7 to 30 and for Lily Days to be held March 29 by groups of school youngsters. The request was made by Miss Marie Ropp, executive director of the society which has its headquarters in Alton.

Council Negotiating Group May Handle GC Wage Talks

Appointment of a special committee to handle work agreement negotiations between city worker groups and the city is being considered by Mayor Partney and members of the city council.

Recommendation for a negotiating committee was made by Alderman Whitmer, chairman of the Police committee, after a letter from the Police Union giving a 60-day notice to open agreement talks.

Whitmer pointed out that if several council committees handle the wage and work agreement negotiations "all would end in utter confusion."

The alderman explained, "I realize that Personnel committee is a dirty word for the council, and I'm not trying to re-establish the committee, but want to try to avoid the confusion there would be with different council committees negotiating with different unions."

Expire in April

All city work agreements expire in April.

In other business relating to city personnel, the council authorized renting work uniforms for the 10 employees at the Alderman treatment plant at a cost of $2.20 a week per man. Alderman Moorlens explained the cost figure from Clean Coverall Co. was the only one obtained after repeated tries to get bids from four firms.

The treatment plant workers have been using an old washing machine at the plant to wash their own work clothes. The rental service is to start Feb. 1.

Approval was given a resolution for the six-month appointment of Robert Jackson as temporary superintendent of the treatment plant at a salary of $875 a month and for Ernest Hubbard to receive $600 a month as assistant temporary superintendent.

Authorization was given for Civil Defense Director Victor Koenig to attend a mid-year conference of the U.S. Civil Defense Council in Washington, D.C., March 17-20, with an allowance of $185 for expenses.

Dr. Dionesa Named

Mayor Partney's appointment of Dr. F. B. Dionesa to the Human Relations Commission, replacing Rev. Phillip Kraft of St. Joseph's Church who resigned due to illness.

Discussed by the council was the group insurance program for employees after a complaint was received that a full payment was not received by one employee who belonged to another group. It was decided the present policy would cost the city 20 to 25% more if it tried to give 100% coverage for employees that might be in other group plans rather than having individual policies. A study showed only three city employees belong to other group plans, and no action was taken. The payroll for the last half

Thrift Charge Dropped

A charge of theft of under $150 against Mrs. Mary Patricia, 2701 East 34th street, has been dropped in magistrate court. It was filed Dec. 23 by Ralph Glasgow, a tenant who has moved from town.

A resoussion was adopted transferring $1500 from the sales tax reserve to the Legal Fee fund to hire a lawyer of the Morris B. Chapman firm to handle three lawsuits pending against the city.

Alderman Rutledge advised council members that single reports on Nameoki area sewer funds and the sewage treatment plant are being submitted. For the past several months, duplicate reports have been submitted by the treasurer and the comptroller.

Friends may write to him at his new address, Bur2/G.M. Nesbit, USN B33 03 22 MCB 62 "C" Co., FPO New York, N.Y. 09501.

Delmer D. Werths, 71, Dies; Former Resident

Delmer D. Werths, 71, of Sullivan, Mo., a former 35-year resident of Granite City, died at 3:30 p.m. Monday in the Sullivan Hospital, where he was admitted Friday after suffering a heart attack at home.

A native of Concordia, Mo., Mr. Werths had resided in the local community from the age of three years until the early 1930's when he moved to Eddyville, Pa. Prior to retirement six years ago, he was employed as a patternmaker with General Steel Industries. He was former member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Werths; one son, John Werths of Sullivan; two sisters, Mrs. Mary White and Mrs. Leona Corbel, and two brothers, Carl and Herbert Werths, all of Granite City, and three granddaughters, Lisa, Mary Kay and Amy Werths, all of St. Louis.

Funeral services were held today in Sullivan, Mo.

Many Major Offices Open in 1968 Elections

Quad-City and Madison county voters will cast ballots in two elections this year for a wide variety of offices at the county, district, state and national levels.

Only major elections during 1968 are the primary election on June 11 and the general election on Nov. 5. At the local level school district elections will be held April 13. Election of township and municipal officials is not scheduled until 1969.

Open to election this year will be five county offices, state representatives, congressmen, delegates and alternates to the national conventions and precinct committeemen.

In balloting for state officials, voters also will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state auditor and attorney general, and on the national level will vote for President and vice-president and U.S. Senator.

County Offices Open
County offices subject to election this year will include those of Democratic incumbent James F. Chapman, recorder of deeds; John L. Kravack, auditor; Leon G. Scroggins, state's attorney; Willard V. Portell, circuit clerk; and Leonard Davis, incumbent. Both Scroggins and Davis hold office by appointment. Davis has announced his candidacy for election to the post, but Scroggins has not yet indicated his plans.

Also open to election this year will be state representative posts now held by Democrats Lloyd "Curly" Harris of Granite City and Leland J. Kennedy of Alton, and Republican Ralph T. Smith of Alton, in the 55th representative district. Under reapportionment of several years ago, Russell, who now is divided into two representative districts—the 55th and the 53rd.

The state representative race in the 55th district which includes the Quad-City area is expected to become a hot battle for the post which will be vacated by Rep. Harris, who announced several weeks ago that he will not seek re-election. Already in the race are Harry Briggs, supervisor of Nameoki township, and Robert Ford, assistant supervisor of Wood River township.

55th Includes Quad-Cities
The 55th representative district includes Granite City, Nameoki, Chouteau, Venice, Alton, Wood River and Collinsville townships, while the remainder of Madison county townships plus Macopin, Bond, Montgomery and Clinton counties.

In the 53rd district, terms expiring this year are those of Representatives Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville and the late Charles Schaefer of Nokomis, both Democrats, and Ben Harpstrite, New Baden Republican.

Melvin Price, veteran incumbent Democratic Congressman of East St. Louis, will be up for election again this year in the 24th Congressional district, which is made up of Granite City, Venice, Nameoki, Chouteau, Edwardsville, Wood River, Fort Russell, St. Jacob, Jarvis, Pin Oak and Collinsville townships in Madison county and all of St. Clair county.

In the 23rd Congressional district which includes the rest of Madison county plus 13 other counties, Cong. George Shipley, (D) Olney, will be up for re-election.

To Elect Court Clerks
There is no election of state senators this year except to fill vacancies, but the voters will ballot on election of a Supreme Court Clerk, Appellate court clerks and trustees of the University of Illinois.

No circuit judges or associate judges are to be presented for retention in office this year. Their terms expire in 1970 and 1972 respectively.

In addition to these offices for which candidates are nominated in the primary June 11 and elected in the general election Nov. 5, precinct committeemen and national convention delegates and alternates are elected in the primary voting. One precinct committeeman of each precinct is elected in each precinct of the county.

Since Madison county now is divided into two congressional districts, the 23rd and 24th, four delegates and four alternates will be elected, two of each from each district, from both parties.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

except that of state's attorney, and said a candidate for this post will be announced soon. All incumbent Democratic officeholders at county level have said they will seek re-election with exception of State's Attorney Leon Scroggins, who said he has not yet decided whether he will seek election. Scroggins now holds the office by appointment.

The almost completed Madison county Republican ticket is made up of David John of Granite City, candidate for circuit clerk; Robert Thomas, Granite City, for coroner; Pete Fuchs, Alton, for auditor; and William Burns of Collinsville, operator of a Granite City cafeteria, for county recorder of deeds.

County Republican Chairman Charles Walters of Alton said a candidate for the state's attorney post will be announced soon and selection will be made later of congressional and state representative candidates who will be endorsed by the county committee.

The first filing date is only six weeks away. The filing period will open March 4 for filing petitions with both the county clerk and the secretary of state. March 11 will be the last date for candidates to file nominating petitions while March 16 is the final date for withdrawal of candidacies.

Madison county voters in the Quad-City area also will elect two members of the East Side Levee and Sanitary district board under a new system of voting this year. In past years Madison county voters balloted for five levee board members who included two Madison county members and three St. Clair county members.

In the 1968 elections, under new statutory amendments, Madison county voters will ballot only for candidates from Madison county and the same system will apply in St. Clair county. Levee board candidates will file petitions of candidacy with the county clerk this year, instead of with the secretary of state as they have in the past.

All of the incumbent members of the levee board are expected to be candidates for re-election. They include William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice and Joseph Grant of Granite City, Madison county trustees, and Lawrence Tolari, George Duff and Morris Campbell, all of East St. Louis, St. Clair county trustees.

Soil Conservation Meeting Set Monday

The 21st annual meeting of the Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District will be held at the Farm Bureau building in Edwardsville next Monday, starting at 11 a.m.

Election of officers will be held at this time and three directors will be elected to the district board. Members of the nominating committee are: Richard Ellis, Herbert Brase and Arthur Schneider.

The meeting will be held in conjunction with Agronomy Day. The speaker will be Pat Johnson, University of Illinois Agronomist, who will speak on weed control at 10 a.m. and in the afternoon his subject will be soil fertility.

Luncheon will be available at the Farm Bureau Building at noon, prepared by the Extension Council.

Amsted Sales and Income Down in Last Quarter

Amsted Industries reported Tuesday at Chicago that it had sales of $33,900,000 in the three months ended Dec. 31, down slightly from $34,375,000 last year.

Net income amounted to $2,318,000, equal to 74 cents per share, compared to $3,651,000, or $1.34 per share, a year ago, the highest December quarter in the company's history.

The decline, which was anticipated, would have been greater had it not been for the cash acquisitions of Litho-Strip and Macwhite in the 1967 fiscal year.

This was announced by Joseph B. Lanterman, president, at Amsted's annual stockholders' meeting in Chicago.

Lanterman said the primary reason for the reduction in earnings was the low level of new freight car buying. The local American Steel Foundries plant produces rail equipment. He added, "It is expected that railroad traffic will increase in the next few months, bringing with it an upswing in freight car ordering. The long-term outlook for new freight car purchases continues to be excellent."

The Amsted president said, "Earnings in the March 31, 1968, quarter will reflect the usual adverse seasonal effects on pipe operations and are expected to be below last year. However, it appears, as was stated in the 1967 annual report, that 1968 will be another good year for the company as improvement in sales and earnings is anticipated in the last half of the fiscal year."

Dal Maxvill to Speak Sunday at Cub Banquet

Pack 80 of Central Christian Church will hold its annual Blue and Gold banquet at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Highlight of the evening will be the guest appearance and speech of Dal Maxvill of the 1967 World Champion St. Louis Cardinals.

The banquet will open with a flag ceremony by the Webster Scouts followed by the potluck dinner.

The banquet is made possible from proceeds of candy sales by the Cub Scouts.

equipment amounted to $2,200,000 in the quarter ended Dec. 31.

The board of directors declared a dividend of 60 cents per share payable March 15 to stockholders of record as of the close of business Feb. 19.

PRICES

All supermarkets claim "LOW PRICES" . . . But do they have 'em?
As your guardian against high prices, I want you to know that Tri-City Groc. Co. not only has LOW PRICES, but they have what I call "PRICE WAR PRICES".
Take a minute and check the items in this "AD" against what others have in their "ADS" . . . Then compare Tri-City's shelf prices against the others' shelf prices . . . Then you'll know what your "PRICE FIGHTER" has been telling you . . . Tri-City "IS" the home of "PRICE WAR PRICES".

Amvet Auxiliary To Collect Shoes

A collection of shoes will be made this month by the Amvet Post 51 Auxiliary to be sent to the people of Appalachia as the project for this month.

Ten members of the Auxiliary met Wednesday evening at the Post home, 5100 Livingston drive, with Mrs. Agnes Konovich, president, in charge.

She announced due to the weather the Fifth Division meeting has been rescheduled for Feb. 4 at 2 p.m. at the Post home.

Other dates of interest were a "Family" Day to be held on Saturday at 5 p.m. and the annual Valentine Party on Feb. 10 at 7:30 p.m.

The white elephant gift went to Mrs. Marge Smith. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Konovich and Mrs. Pauline Wickham.

Ice Rink Tour For Sorority

Harold Brown, park superintendent, served as guide Tuesday for the Alpha Xi Sorority on a tour of the new ice skating rink. They inspected the facilities and watched the ice-surface refinisher—the Zomboli, in operation.

The members skated during the last session and then gathered at the Den for refreshments.

Those attending were Miss Betty Buchanan, Rosalee Buehne, Mrs. Sue Sanasarian, Mrs. Kathy Dohal, Mrs. Gerry Menden and a guest, the former Barbara Buehne, who leaves for London for two years with her husband and family.

The next business meeting will be held with Mrs. Virginia Peters in February when plans will be announced for the members to assist with the Heart Fund drive.

Sorority Plans Service Project

XI Epsilon Chi, Beta Sigma Phi met Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Ruth Stoyanoff. The president, Mrs. Jane Laule conducted the meeting and announced a service project will be discussed and final plans completed at the next meeting.

Notes were read from the chapter's sponsor, Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Lora Mae Lombardi. The next meeting is to be a Valentine party in the home of Mrs. Evelyn Tolliver.

The program for the evening was "Textiles and Textiles" given by Mrs. Marcella Ashford.

Others present were Mesdames Lucille Harper, Norma Rains, Arlene Haldean, and Juanita Calve.

Rummage Sale Being Planned

A meeting of the Women's Auxiliary Letter Carriers Branch 590 was held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Lorraine Gaughn, 2318 Hodges avenue.

Plans were completed for a rummage sale to be held in March. Invitations will be extended to all members to attend the next meeting on Feb. 27 in the home of Mrs. Helen Hinterser, 1635 Spruce street.

A dessert luncheon was served to Mesdames Mary Stone, Joy Edwards, Jane Papp, Helen Hinterser, Mildred Stank, Norma Horn, Miss Ann Parker and Linda Reish.

Legion Unit Plans Party

Mrs. Pauline Birks, president of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113, presided at the regular meeting, Wednesday evening, when announcement was made of a party Feb. 15 where the Auxiliary will serve luncheon to 60 men at the Alton State Hospital. The 40th Annual Patriotic Conference will be held in Chicago on March 21.

Those winning prizes during the social hour were Mesdames Dorothy Best, Melba Wade, Kitty Morris, Lucille Cooper, and Helen Quail. Hostesses serving refreshments were Mrs. Cecelia Malotki and Mrs. Melba Wade.

GOP Women's League Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Republican Service League was held Wednesday night in the home of the president, Mrs. Lily Chaboud, 2885 Ralph street.

District Chairman Roy Lynn gave the evening's program with slides and narration of his recent trip to Gettysburg, Pa.

Guests were Mrs. Mabel Stewart, Miss Nello E. Hart, Mrs. Edna Lynn, Miss Kathryn Vanorder and Mr. E. W. Firner.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Rinda Brown and Mrs. Johannmeier. Next meeting will be Feb. 13.

Triple Crown to Illinois

The state of Illinois earned the nation's "triple crown" for overseas sales during 1966. Gov. Otto Kerner reported that Illinois' exports of manufactured products totaled almost $1.9 billion last year, the largest volume of exports in this category by any state.

For the last several years, Illinois has been the nation's undisputed leader in the yearly volume of agricultural exports, which reached $666 million in fiscal 1966. The state was also first in total exports, having been in a virtual tie for second in manufactured products sold abroad on the basis of the Bureau of the Census 1963 figures.

Last year, however, Illinois won the "triple crown," being first in all three categories.

"Today Illinois leads in the export of manufactured products as well as agricultural products," a combined total of $2.5 billion," Gov. Kerner said.

Elm Disease Can Be Checked

The spread of Dutch elm disease, the plague that has swept through Illinois and destroyed nearly three-fourths of the American elm trees since 1950, is now being held in check in many communities.

Dr. J. C. Carter, head of the Section of Applied Botany and Plant Pathology at the Natural History Survey, reports that in 39 cities and park districts in the Greater Chicago area where recommended control measures have been used, elm tree loss in the last decade were held to two per cent or less a year.

Meanwhile, in several cities without control programs annual losses ranged from four to 100 per cent.

Research studies have demonstrated that a control program can be effective if the sanitation practices include removal of diseased trees, spraying trees with an insecticide and treating grafted tree roots with a soil fungicide to keep the disease fungus from spreading through spraying practices control the bark beetle that carry the disease.

It's a Grubby Business

The Illinois State Geological Survey has published a new "Directory of Illinois Sand and Gravel Producers," as comprehensive, a listing as possible of individuals and companies producing sand and gravel in the state.

Seventy-four of the 102 counties supplied common sand and gravel for various industrial activities, according to the most complete information available at the time the directory was compiled. Some 235 individuals and companies produced sand and gravel from about 355 operations.

Reported sand and gravel production in Illinois for 1965 amounted to about 31.6 million tons valued at $7.8 million dollars.

Alfalfa Weevil Research

An extensive research program dealing with the alfalfa weevil and its control has been under way in Illinois, according to the 75th General Assembly, provides for each grain dealer to be bonded for between $250 and $100,000. The new grain licensing law—which deals with corn, soybeans, wheat, oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums—was financial solvency of the dealer.

Persons engaged in the grain business must obtain a license or any grain dealer refusing to permit inspection of his premises, books, accounts or records by state agents is subject to a fine or imprisonment.

Why of Smoking on TV

Cigarette smokers may find helpful clues on how to successfully give up smoking by taking a new test developed by the U. S. Public Health Service. The Insight Development Questionnaire will be given in a full hour television broadcast presented by CBS News Tuesday, Jan. 26, according to Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Hybrid Fish Research

Fishermen may find their success greatly improved in coming years as a result of research on hybrid sport fishes conducted by aquatic biologists of the Illinois Natural History Survey.

For 10 years Dr. William F. Childers and Dr. George W. Bennett have bred and raised fish hybrids in their search for sport fishes that will be fast-growing and easily caught, that will not overpopulate ponds and small lakes.

In one experiment with these hybrids Dr. Childers and Bennett released eight redear sunfish females and three green sunfish females in a one-acre pond from which they had removed all other fish. Within the next year about 325 largemouth bass were added. During the six years of this experiment, biologists caught about 3800 redear sunfish hybrids with a total weight of more than 800 pounds. In addition they caught 683 largemouth bass weighing over 400 pounds.

Harry Briggs to Enter Demo Race For State Rep.

Harry Briggs, 4265 Lake drive, now serving his fourth consecutive term as supervisor of Nanticoke township, announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination as state representative of the 55th district during the 1969 primary election.

The announcement followed Briggs' recent endorsement for the post by Nanticoke township Democratic committeemen.

Briggs had been mentioned in political circles as a potential candidate for the representative spot after incumbent State Rep. Lloyd "Curly" Harris disclosed that he was not a candidate for re-election. Rep. Harris has served 32 years in the Illinois House.

Briggs, who is 47, is employed as a salesman and has lived 44 years in the Quad-City area. He is a graduate of Granite City high school.

Another county board member, Robert Ford, assistant supervisor of Wood River township, also has been reported circulating petitions to enter the representative race.

Chief of Dr. George Sprugel Jr., director of the Illinois Natural History Survey.

A serious crop problem in a number of other states, the weevil was first reported in the southeastern counties in 1964. It now infests about 55 counties.

The program is centralized in Vincennes, Ind., where the weevils, known as alfalfa weevils, have been located in alfalfa fields.

Water-Breaking Economy

Economic activity in the state of Illinois was at record-breaking levels in 1967. The state's gross product rose to $63.8 billion, excluding land and water.

New and expanded plants in 1967—1967—an increase of nine per cent over the last year's total of 546. Estimated plant investments amounted to $630.8 million, excluding land and water.

Employment reached 4,717,300, exceeding last year's figure by 1.8 per cent. Unemployment averaged 4.1 per cent.

Licensed Grain Dealers

Beginning Jan. 1, all grain dealers in Illinois were subject to license by the State Department of Agriculture.

The 1967 licensing, approved by the 75th General Assembly, provides for each grain dealer to be bonded for between $250 and $100,000. The new grain licensing law—which deals with corn, soybeans, wheat, oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums—was financial solvency of the dealer.

An Undiscovered Tree

Basewood is the country cousin of the two kinds of lindens prized for streets and lawns.

Both Little-Leaf Linden and Crème Linden are part of every city street tree planting plan because of their dense compact growth and modest size. Very similar in shape to sweet gum, they young, both lindens develop rounded tops as they mature.

Little-Leaf Linden has smaller, heart-shaped leaves than the Crème. The ability to prosper in a variety of growing conditions, proven hardiness and dense pyramidal shape are virtues to consider. Fall color is not outstanding, but some appreciate the tree's fragrance during bloom.

The Crème Linden is a hybrid combining many of the features of the Little-Leaf Linden with faster growth. The glossy bright green foliage is larger than the Little-Leaf, but similar in shape and texture.

Both of these will mature near 30 feet to produce shade, beauty and the size relationship necessary to improve your personal comfort and satisfaction.

Watering House Plants

When to water house plants can be solved by feeling the soil in the top of the pot. When it feels dry, water thoroughly. Use your finger, or pinch test, to feel the soil.

When you can provide bottom drainage, this test will not fail as long as you water from the top in the top of the pot. The surplus will drain into the pan under the pot. If you pour off this water, you will contain the ideal quantity for plant growth.

As the plant uses water, the top soil will dry. When the soil is dry or finger test finds dry soil, you know the plant is ready for more water.

Accident Rate Dives; 4 Hurt

The Quad-City's traffic accident rate nosedived to a total of only eight deaths and 44 persons injured, according to reports to authorities since Monday. One person was injured in each of four separate mishaps.

Kathy Travis, five, daughter of Mrs. Faye Travis, 1106 Kirkpatrick, Home, suffered minor injuries when she was apparently hit by an auto driven by Charles Brewer, 2429 1/2 North Avenue, at 8:15 a.m. Tuesday at 801 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Brewer said he saw the girl standing in front of his auto and was crying, but that he did not think that the car had struck the girl. She said it did but did not knock her down.

Driver Injured

Phyllis J. George, 1707 Edgewood, suffered minor injuries at 4:35 p.m. Tuesday when the car she was driving and one driven by Glen W. Morgan, 1718 Edison avenue, collided at 816 Street and McCambridge avenue, Madison police reported. The Morgan car was headed north on McCambridge and the George car was going west.

Gary Schanice, 27, of 2000 Richmond avenue was injured about 3:15 a.m. today when he was struck by a pickup truck parked on 20th street at Delmar avenue. The truck was knocked over the curb by Taylor, 2671 East 23rd street.

San Soucie suffered a cut lip, James Schanice, 31, of 3000 Madison avenue, reported to police at 3:30 p.m. yesterday that a van ran into the left side of his car from a stop sign to go west on 22nd street at Iowa street, a van ran into the left side of his car and was knocked down.

Schanice said he saw the boys on the corner as he was the stop, and one ran into the street suddenly. The boy, Keith Seybert, 5, of 2421 Iowa street, told the driver he was not hurt, Schanice reported.

Include Young Children In Family Meal Planning

Youngsters don't need to be fed separately for very long. At an early age, they can and should eat with the rest of the family.

Everyone requires the same basic types of food. But the amount of each type of food you, your husband and children need and the way you prepare some of the foods may differ. The kinds of meals you plan and the way you serve them meet your own and your husband's growth needs and on your own and your husband's activity and growth maintenance needs.

For health, growing children and adults need food that will supply many kinds of nutrients—protein, minerals, vitamins, carbohydrates and some fat. No single food furnishes all of these necessary nutrients in the proper amounts to meet dietary needs, so everyone must eat a variety of foods each day.

The key foods that children need are also necessary for adults. These foods are: (1) milk and other dairy products, (2) meat, poultry, fish and eggs, (3) fruits and vegetables and (4) bread and cereals.

In general, you should provide three well-planned meals each day. As nearly as possible, the amounts of food served in each meal should be about equal. Too much food served in a meal may cause hunger between meals—and nibbling to get rid of the empty feeling.

You can get more information about planning meals for families with preschoolers in the bulletin, "Food for the Family With Young Children." To obtain this publication, Home and Garden Bulletin No. 5, published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, contact your county extension adviser, 900 Hillboro, Box 68, Edwardsville, Ill.

Winter weather aids sking and skiing enthusiasts. But, for persons 65 years and older, this same weather fosters the hazards of serious falls.

During January, February and March fatal falls in the United States average 1850 per month. Eighty-seven percent of these falls occur among persons 65 years and older.

Principal reasons for the winter-time falls among older people are slippery walks and steps and poorer visibility inside the home due to short daylight hours. These falls seem to be more common in the home than on the street.

If your family includes an older person, be sure to provide adequate lighting in every room, particularly on stairways. Keep walks and steps on your premises free of ice and snow. If possible, arrange to accompany your elderly grandfather or grandmother when walking on streets and in other public places.

Extend Skating Class To Non-City Residents

The Granite City park board last night approved a plan to open free skating instruction classes to housewives living outside the city. Housewives from out of the city who participate still must pay the non-resident skating fee, the board pointed out.

A contract for providing rides and concessions for the annual Wilson Park July celebration was presented to the board by Ray Swayer of New Athens who provided the rides last year.

It was decided to call bids for purchase of a new station wagon to replace the one damaged extensively in a recent traffic accident and to call a special meeting soon to study applications for jobs in the park district's 1968 summer programs.

Cease in Hospital

Al Cease, 1359 West Poston road, Madison county deputy coroner, is reported to be in serious condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Sunday when he was scheduled for Monday surgery.

He was injured in a traffic accident on Monday when he was struck by a car while walking on streets and in other public places.

Ernest C. Eli, 17, Succumbs to Sarcoma

Ernest Clark Eli, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest (Mary Jayne) Eli, 1333 Rodgers avenue, died at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at his home.

He suffered from sarcoma which required the removal of an arm by surgery in July, 1966.

The youth was a native and life-long resident of Granite City and was a Granite City high school junior, educated in the tutorial program. He was a member of St. John United Church of Christ.

His father, former Fire and Police Commissioner for Granite City, is employed at Granite City Steel Co.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Stacy June and Shelley Frieda Eli, both 10, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles "Cy" Clark of Granite City.

An obituary notice appears elsewhere in this issue.

Frank Horton, Veteran Resident, Dies at 82

Frank Horton, 82, of 1020 Logan street, Venice, died at 5:40 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was a patient since Dec. 26.

Born in Huntsville, Ala., he resided here since 1922. He was a retired employee of the Western Firebrick Co. and previously was employed by Kelly Tar & Chemical Corp.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ella M. Horton; two sons, Robert and Everett Horton, both of Venice; and six grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

An obituary notice appears elsewhere in this issue.

2 Granite Cityans Named to Hospital Posts

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Jan. 25, 1968 Page 19

Two native Granite Cityans have been named heads of departments at St. Elizabeth Hospital, it was announced today by Sister Mary Thomas, administrator.

Mrs. Dolores Waelitz is serving as materials manager, and Mrs. Kathleen Grammer has taken the duties as head of the operation of the storeroom.

Mrs. Waelitz, who formerly headed the education department, is a graduate of Granite City high school, 1956, and Jewish Hospital School of Nursing in 1959.

After graduation, she became a staff nurse in pediatrics at St. Elizabeth and in 1960 took charge of Central Supply with supervision of the Emergency department added to her assignments. She served in this capacity until 1965.

She was educational programmer in the Department of Education from October 1965 until April 1966, and then Mrs. Waelitz was placed in charge of the educational operations at the local hospital. She held the position until this week.

MRS. DOLORES WAEELITZ

MRS. GRAMMER

Mrs. Grammer, as head of the storeroom, has the responsibility for receiving, storage and issuance of more than $500,- 000 worth of supplies annually. She has had 5 1/2 years administrative experience in Central Supply and Education.

meeting and Mrs. Peggy Short of Third Baptist Church sang a solo and gave the devotion. Local girls attending represented the Calvary Baptist, Third Baptist and Suburban Baptist churches.

A play entitled "By Love—Compelled" was presented by the Jean Young G.A. group of Suburban Baptist Church. Those participating in the play were Deana and Donna Peterson, Terry Mohorn, Pam Cavness, Denise Hanna, Pat Carlisle, Sandra Smith and their counselors, Mrs. Janet Kunick and Mrs. Sue Wyronek.

New Finance, Annexation Laws Urgent, State Group Told

A wide range of Illinois legislative changes—including modified financial controls for public agencies and tightened municipal annexation laws—were recommended to the new Illinois Commission for Economic Development yesterday by Quad-City area representatives attending a regional hearing in Alton.

In suggestions for the economic and business development of the southwestern Illinois area, they called upon the state to develop a major park and recreational system, establish a major metropolitan airport facility, provide short-term, low-interest loans for municipal planning and acquisition of land for public works projects and to participate in the solution of area-wide drainage and flood relief problems.

The proposals, along with many others, were presented before the commission by Carl Ranft, manager of the Tri-City Regional Port district; William F. Hoelscher, executive secretary of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities; and Charles D. McKinney, assistant director of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

More Hearings Planned
They were among a long list of speakers from throughout an 11-county area of southwestern Illinois for which the new legislative commission called the hearing to probe the problems and difficulties of development and progress in the fields of business, industry, education, planning and municipal government.

The commission, in operation only three months, will hold similar hearings throughout the state to gather data pertinent to the eventual development of a vast legislative program designed to eliminate the existing impediments.

State Senator Arthur Gottschalk, (R) Flossmoor, chairman of the commission, told the meeting, attended by about 40 persons, that the "economic development of Illinois is a never-ending task that deserves the concerned attention of this commission, the State Legislature and every civic-minded citizen in Illinois."

He said the commission's "primary mission" is to gather information "about the strengths and weaknesses of the Illinois economy so that action can be taken to correct the problems."

He said that facts gathered at yesterday's meeting will be added to information gathered by the commission at similar regional meetings and that the information ultimately used in advising the Illinois General Assembly, the Department of Business and Economic Development and other organizations on ways in which Illinois "can be made an even better place in which to work, live and do business."

Eight Major Points

In presentations to the commission, Hoelscher outlined eight major recommendations which he said would do much to develop the future industrial growth of the area. First among these, he said, is the "poor labor image." He said that much is being done along this line but pointed out that while "a huge local steel mill expansion and modernization project suggested by the state and additional labor difficulties, yet another extensive expansion project in Madison county has been delayed by jurisdictional disputes."

Hoelscher also listed continued improvement of the area's transportation system with extension of the Great River Road, and airport development among the greatest needs of the area. He said that a second primary municipal airport should be constructed in the Illinois area and that at least one secondary business and recreational general aviation airport needs to be built between the Alton Civic Memorial airport to the north and the St. Louis-Midway Airport to the south.

He said this area is in "desperate need" of a state medical school, pointing out that while the patient-to-doctor ratio in northern counties of the state is 738 persons per physician, it is 1463 persons per physician in 31 southern Illinois counties, but 1463 persons per physician in Madison and St. Clair counties.

He said the commission's "primary mission" is to gather information "about the strengths and weaknesses of the Illinois economy so that action can be taken to correct the problems."

He said that facts gathered at yesterday's meeting will be added to information gathered by the commission at similar regional meetings and that the information ultimately used in advising the Illinois General Assembly, the Department of Business and Economic Development and other organizations on ways in which Illinois "can be made an even better place in which to work, live and do business."

increase only to 6%, he said, but today it is impossible to estimate the benefits even at the 6% maximum.

As a result, Ranft asserted, the only projects that can be considered by the Port District are those that have private financing means available.

Problems Must Be Solved
McKinney said problems common to this area and southwestern Illinois have resulted in part from national changes and conditions such as major technology changes and national socio-economic shifts that are broad in scope and complex in nature. They need to be studied so that the region and the area can adapt means to cushion their effect or to take advantage of the potential they offer.

In recommending steps to improve the economic future of the area, McKinney told the commission the development of a major park and recreational system is first on the list.

"Cahokia is an archaeological resource which has been virtually neglected by the state," he said.

McKinney also called for construction of a second major airport in the Illinois area as a vital requirement of development. Such an airport would give identity to the area and would encourage a shift in metropolitan development from the west to the east and would stabilize the Central City near the Mississippi center of the metropolitan area.

"In order to promote and develop such a facility," McKinney told the commission, "a strong partnership between the state and local units of government would be necessary."

Shopping Facilities Needed
As two additional incentives to progress, he noted the development of major regional shopping facilities and service centers and the development of a high-quality residential building that offered "prestige" living conditions would do much to identify the area.

He also urged labor retraining and land reclamation as major steps in development. "Significant need for in-service and vocational training programs exists with the large proportion of semi-skilled and unskilled workers in the labor force and the high unemployment rate," McKinney told the members.

McKinney also called for an increase in the bonded indebtedness of public agencies and a local bond issue to develop new sources of taxation.

He said the number two point of his recommendations was required capital budgeting and capital improvements program by all local units of government.

Urges Financial Aids
He further urged the state to assist local units of government with their planning programs and with redevelopment of their blighted areas through financial assistance programs.

McKinney also said the state should provide short-term, low-interest loans to municipalities for the planning, engineering and design of specific public works projects and provide the same type of loans for advance question of land for public works projects and for major public facilities.

He called, in addition, for revision of legislation so that "municipal annexation becomes less restrictive and more suited to the needs of planned, orderly growth and expansion."

In addition, municipal incorporation should be restricted in certain instances.

According to McKinney, the annexation law as now stands is "difficult and restrictive logical outward expansion of established municipalities."

By the same token, premunicipal law encourages premature incorporation in urbanizing areas, particularly as a defensive measure against outward annexation. "... new municipal incorporation should be permitted only under specific conditions ... (which would) ... include a demonstrated ability to provide a full range of municipal services in accordance with minimum standards and within prescribed limits of fiscal responsibility."

State Orders Recommendation
As a final point, McKinney said the state should establish

ORDINANCE NO. 68-1

AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE PLACING OF TRAFFIC SIGNS AT THE INTERSECTION OF THIRD STREET AND KERR STREET FOR THE PURPOSE OF REGULATING VEHICULAR TRAFFIC.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF VENICE, ILLINOIS:

Section 1: That regulations size stop signs be placed at the intersection of Third and Kerr streets on the northwesterly and southeasterly corners of said intersection, to be placed so as to regulate traffic moving in northerly and southerly directions on Third street; said signs to be so placed in positions between the curbs and sidewalks so that they can be clearly seen by traffic moving in northerly and southerly directions on the said Third street.

Section 2: That said stop signs shall be so placed at the said intersection for the purpose of protecting the public generally.

Section 3: That all persons driving or operating any vehicle in a northerly or southerly direction on Third street shall obey said "stop signs" and shall bring any vehicle they are driving or operating over and along said Third street to a complete stop before entering said intersection, and shall not proceed until said intersection is free and clear of any pedestrian traffic, or other vehicular traffic and it is safe to proceed.

Section 4: That for the purpose of this ordinance, "vehicle" is defined as follows:

"Vehicle" includes animals that are led, ridden or driven, and every horse-driven, motor-driven or muscular-propelled conveyance.

Section 5: That it is hereby declared unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, or servant, agent or employee thereof, to drive or operate any vehicle over and across the points specified on a complete stop and from proceeding until said place is free and clear of any pedestrian traffic or other vehicular traffic.

Section 6: Any person, firm or corporation, or servant, agent or employee thereof, who shall violate any of the terms shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than $500.00 for said violation.

Section 7: This ordinance shall take effect and be in full force ten (10) days after that the plaintiff in the above entitled cause has filed his Complaint in said cause on November 17, 1967, that said action is now pending and undetermined in said Court and that you, the said Cana Transport Company, Inc., defendant, must file your appearance in said action on or before the 11th day of March, 1968, and in the event you fail to do so default may be entered against you.

PASSED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF VENICE, ILLINOIS, this 18th day of January, A.D., 1968.

APPROVED BY THE MAYOR OF THE CITY OF VENICE, ILLINOIS, this 18th day of January, A.D., 1968.

Sgt. Richard Vest Hurt by Grenade In Vietnam Action

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Vest, 1927 Sken street, Madison, received a letter from their son, Army Sgt. Richard D. Vest, this week advising them he had received burns on his leg and one side of his face from a phosphorus grenade which exploded near him while he was on duty in Vietnam. He was stationed at a base approximately 30 miles south of Da Nang.

He later telephoned his parents from a hospital in Japan saying he was doing fine. His sister Mrs. Gary Reed of Granite City placed a call to the hospital and was able to talk to him. He expects to be in the hospital for four or five weeks and possibly return to this country following his recovery.

Sgt. Vest, a 1965 graduate of Madison high school, entered the Army in November 1966 and was serving with the First Air Cavalry Division in Vietnam since his arrival there in May. He had received his promotion to sergeant three days prior to his injury.

His present address is Sgt. Richard D. Vest, US 56583061, 168 General Hospital, Ward 7F, APO San Francisco, Calif. 96303.

Balances Run Low; Fund Transfers Made

The Granite City council approved fund transfers of $139,000 Monday night to supplement balances in nine general fund accounts.

The transfers total $97,300 out of the sales tax fund which had a Jan. 1 balance of $101,490, and $42,000 out of the tax commission fund which had a balance of $82,186 at the beginning of the month.

City Comptroller Robert Stevens said the transfers are not reflected in a report showing Jan. 1 balances of $321,108 in the general fund and $335,680 in all special accounts. Neither, he said, does the report account for $34,453 in October sales tax which the city will receive this month.

Of the total amount approved for transfer, $135,000 will go into the general government account. The remainder will be divided as follows: police, $56,000; inspection, $4800; sanitation, $27,000; interest and judgments, $11,500; humane division, $3000; city planning, $1500; air pollution control, $500, and school crossing guards, $10,000.

Lists Expenses, Income
Stevens' monthly financial report showed that a total of $915,025 has been spent out of the general fund from the beginning of the fiscal year last May 1 to Dec. 31. Fund receipts for the fiscal year thus far, exclusive of transfers, amounted to $1,016,184.

Expenditures out of special accounts totaled $490,705 to Dec. 31, Stevens reported. Total receipts in this fund, exclusive of transfers, amounted to $744,623, the report said.

Balances in special accounts at the beginning of the fiscal year amounted to $431,762, however, bringing total available funds to $1,176,385 exclusive of transferred funds.

The report showed a Dec. 31 balance of $77,568 in the first department account of the general fund. Expenditures thus far in the fiscal year in this account amount to $203,625 out of available funds of $281,184. The general fund street department account had a balance of $73,584, with fiscal expenditures of $133,410 out of total income of $206,994.

Police Account Low
The police account of the general fund shows expenditures thus far in the fiscal year amounting to $228,773 out of income of $229,625. This leaves a balance of only $852 with four months of the fiscal year remaining.

The general government account in the general fund had a Dec. 31 balance of $21,015, with expenditures of $82,894 against income of $113,910 during the fiscal year. The city's general government account of the general fund had a balance of $1288 on Dec. 31, with fiscal expenditures of $12,849 out of income of $14,118.

There was a Dec. 31 balance of $806 in the school crossing guards account. Expenditures during the year amount to $12,104 out of total income of $12,910.

Balances as of Dec. 31 in special accounts included $86,234 in the parking meter fund, $101,490 in the sales tax fund and only $4784 in the maintenance of sewers fund. The transfers approved Monday night reduced the sales tax fund to $4190 leaving the parking meter fund as the only remaining sizeable source of revenue without borrowing from the working cash fund.

The working cash fund still has a balance of $193,329, with only one transfer of $30,000 made thus far in the fiscal year. In past years city officials have been reluctant to dip into the working cash fund to clear up deficits in either the general fund or the special accounts because a substantial balance in the sales tax fund made this unnecessary.

With the sales tax fund almost depleted, however, expenditures from accounts with low balances may make use of the fund necessary before the end of the current fiscal year on April 30.

The sales tax fund was reduced another $1500 Monday night with a separate transfer in that amount to the legal department. The money will be used to pay an attorney to handle a series of law suits filed against the city.

Scuba Diving Course Registration Wednesday

Men and women interested in becoming qualified scuba divers are invited to register and attend an orientation meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the YMCA.

Richard Griffin, president of the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club, said prospective divers who participate in next week's meeting will hear an outline of the nine-week instruction program which will begin Wednesday, Feb. 7, at the YMCA.

Nine sessions, each consisting of four hours, will be conducted on Wednesday evenings at the local "Y," with nationally certified YMCA and Midwest Diving Club instructors to teach the series of lectures and pool work.

All equipment, textbooks and materials required will be furnished by the Bubblemasters Scuba Club. Griffin said, whose members have agreed to sponsor the training program.

A minimum age of 16 years, with parental consent, has been set, with prospective students required to be competent swimmers. Cost of the series is $32 per person to "Y" members, and $40 for non-members.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Griffin, after 5 p.m., at 877-0556, or instructor Jack Atkinson, at 877-3698.

Venice Crippled Children Returns Still Coming In

Returns from the annual dance and "roadblock" solicitation of the Venice Crippled Children's Organization are still being made preliminary to allocation of funds to the Shriners Crippled Children's Hospital and the Madison Polio Foundation.

Officials of the organization said it still will be several days before all returns are in on the annual benefit drive conducted last Saturday. The dance was held Saturday night in the American Legion Hall with more than 700 persons attending.

The "roadblock" drive in which Legionnaire and Venice firemen solicited motorists for contributions at Fourth street and Broadway was conducted from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday.

The dance and solicitation in $3500 to $4000, according to Dr.

John E. Lee, president of the organization.

The organization plans this year to give $700 to the Shriners Hospital bringing to $30,000 the total contributions during the organization's 30 years of activity, and $400 to the Madison County Polio Foundation. The remainder of the proceeds are used to handle individual cases throughout the year.

The Renault 10 was built to carry four people, so it made sense for it to have 4 doors.

But that's just one of the things that make sense about the Renault 10. It gets 35 miles to the gallon, a top speed of 85 miles per hour, has 11 cubic feet of luggage space, 4-wheel disc brakes, and 4-wheel independent suspension.

Yet the price is only $5000, which is also designed to make the Renault 10 an easy car to get into.

ICC Considering Venice Appeal for Higher RR Share of Viaduct Cost

The city of Venice stands ready to "scrap the Broadway underpass project" unless three major rail lines that will cross the top of the structure are required to pay part of increased construction costs, Venice Mayor John E. Lee has informed city council members following an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing at Springfield.

The hearing is to be resumed at Springfield Feb. 9 at the request of the railroads which have indicated they will present evidence at that time. Testifying as a witness in a hearing originally scheduled on a petition of the Illinois Highway Department for a new construction deadline, Mayor Lee urged ICC officials to order the railroads to pay 14.4% of the total viaduct building cost instead of a "fixed maximum" of $180,000 established in the original ICC order in 1964.

"With that kind of an agreement," Mayor Lee told the commission, "we (the city of Venice) will be willing to continue with the project. Otherwise," he added, "we stand ready to scrap the underpass plans and reopen Kerr street and South Main street."

Four-Hour Hearing
Mayor Lee's testimony climaxed a four-hour hearing in which state highway department engineers told the commission that detailed construction plans and specifications will be completed by the state highway department in early March and that the project will be ready for calling bids "in the second quarter" of the year, probably in May.

Attorneys representing the three railroads—G&O, Norfolk & Western and the New York Central—moved for dismissal of the petition of the city for larger cost payments by the rail lines. The motion was taken under advisement and the hearing recessed until Friday, Feb. 9.

Mayor Lee noted in his testimony that the railroads are primarily responsible for nearly two years of delay in building the underpass because of changes in track layouts, a factor that prevented the state highway department from beginning work on detailed plans until mid-1967. Therefore, he said, the railroads should assume construction costs that have spiraled upward during the two years the project has been delayed.

C. N. Bullard, state highway department engineer of railway structures and crossings, and the first witness called by the commission, related that preliminary plans for the underpass were received from Venice in November 1965, and that these were sent to the railroads for approval in January 1966.

Railroads Change Plans
The G&O returned its plans in February with changes calling for construction of walks along its tracks. In March, Bullard related, Norfolk & Western returned its plans with changes calling for construction of a second track, and the following June New York Central returning its set of plans calling for additional space girders that required changes in grade.

The new railroad requirements were included in a revised set of plans by the state, completed in February 1967 and sent back to the railroads. The railroads approved the new plans in March last year, Bullard told the commission.

The original ICC order of 1964 called for completion of the underpass by Oct. 30, 1967.

Laurel Berger, design engineer of the 8th Illinois Highway district at French Village, told the commission that a May or June bid call is anticipated by the highway department, but that about two years time will be needed to build the underpass.

Seek 1970 Deadline
The highway department has asked the ICC to set a new deadline date of May 1, 1970, for completing construction of the viaduct. Berger told the commission that the underpass project calls for 350 working days and that the highway department operates on a basis of 180 working days in a calendar year. As a result, he said, two years will be required.

Mayor Lee, who followed Berger on the stand, said, "This is the first we have heard of two years. We have always understood it would take about six months to complete plans and about a year to build the underpass."

The mayor told the commission that he and other city officials are convinced that Venice has lost considerable vehicular traffic over McKinley bridge, which is operated by the city, because of delay in completing the underpass.

Affects Bridge Traffic

"One of the principal reasons we went along with the October 1967 deadline was the hope the work would be completed before the Poplar street bridge at East St. Louis was completed," the mayor said. Because of traffic delays at the railroad crossings in Venice, many drivers have turned to the Poplar street bridge and once they are in the habit of using that route probably never will return to use of the McKinley bridge."

He pointed out the city lost more than $24,000 in bridge revenue in December and that traffic for the first 15 days of this month indicates the loss for January will be about the same.

Edward Juneau of the engineering firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwanb, consulting engineers for Venice, also testified.

Building Costs Rise

Juneau estimated that the cost of building the underpass has risen about 4.5% per year during the two years of the delay. Consequently, he said, Venice now stands to pay approximately $325,000 as its share instead of the $280,000 contemplated when the project first was developed. He said total cost of the underpass now is estimated at $1,420,000.

Also attending the Springfield hearing from Venice were City Clerk William "Mike" Ebersold, City Atty. Harry Hartman, and Walter Simmons, chairman of the Madison county Democratic Committee.

The petition to reapportion construction cost so that the railroads would assume their share of the burden was filed by the city of Venice last October after the state highway department had filed its petition asking for a new construction deadline.

Mayor Lee said that he believed the 14.4% share of cost for the railroads would be fair because it is the same percentage applied in the original ICC construction order. At that time the total cost of the project was estimated at $1,250,000. The ICC order then fixed the $180,000 cost to the railroads, but fixed percentage shares for Venice and the state.

A. O. Smith Earnings

Rise 10% in 1967

A. O. Smith Corp. earnings in 1967 improved for the third consecutive year, rising more than 10% above 1966 profits, while sales increased almost 4%, according to announcement Tuesday.

The Milwaukee-based company said that its 1967 earnings were $9,677,397, or $4.08 per share on sales of $329,978,263, compared with 1966 earnings of $8,738,039, or $3.69 a share, on sales of $318,433,127.

After adjustment of a 5% stock dividend declared after the end of the year, earnings were $3.87 a share for 1967, and $3.51 for 1966.

The report said that sale of passenger car frames, truck frames and other automotive components in 1967 were at the same level as in 1966. The company's Granite City plant manufactures car frames for General Motors.

"The $180,000 cost set for the railroads in the original order was 14.4% of the then total cost of $1,250,000," the mayor noted. "Therefore it is only fair that they be assessed the same share of the cost now under a higher total cost."

March of Dimes 'Mothers March' Set for Monday Evening Throughout Quad-Cities Area

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Jan. 25, 1968 Page 27

March of Dimes leaders in the Quad-Cities are completing plans this week for the annual door-to-door "Mothers' Porchlight March" on Monday evening, Jan. 29.

Residents throughout Granite City, Mitchell, Pontoon Beach, Stalling, Madison, North Venice and West Madison are being asked to illuminate their home and yard areas Monday evening to assist more than 260 mothers who are expected to make calls in their own neighborhoods.

The volunteer workers will present each family with a special informative kit, containing literature about birth defects, now the primary target of funds donated in the annual campaign.

Collection Points
Mrs. Bernadine Hagnauer, chairman, and Mrs. Julia Lancaster, co-chairman, leaders in the Granite City area drive, said today that contributions collected by neighborhood workers should be turned in as early as possible Monday evening to area captains, who, in turn, will deposit the donations the same night with drive officials at Granite City Trust & Savings Bank.

Madison volunteers are asked to leave donations with campaign leaders at the Madison recreation center, Seventh street and Lee avenue. Mrs. Julia Voloski, chairman, and Mrs. Alberta Mikolasuk, co-chairman, announced.

Activities planned this week in Granite City include collection of March of Dimes contribution cards today and tomorrow at local schools by Mrs. Toby Worthen, 2545 Fortune drive, and Mrs. Billie Schuler, 3237 Newell drive, who distributed the envelopes earlier this week.

Donations from employees of two local industrial firms also will be sought this week by teams stationed at plant gates, headed by Archie White, at American Steel Foundries, and Herbert Milton, at Granite City Steel Co., Mrs. Hagnauer reported.

County Goal $40,000
A goal of $40,000 has been set for the 1968 March of Dimes drive in Madison county, with January set as the traditional month for the nation-wide campaign that channels funds into the fight against birth defects and polio.

Last year, $37,912 was contributed in Madison county, a jump of $200 from 1966 receipts of $37,712. The county volunteer organization consists of 30 community units, each operating on an individual basis in regards to their campaign procedures.

Many community groups sponsor extensive programs during January, promoting March of Dimes giving through school projects, bowling sweepstakes, dances, variety shows, frosted cake donations, peanut sales and similar events.

All are scheduled to hold the traditional Mothers' Porchlight March next Monday evening. Granite City, Alton and Edwardsville are perennial leaders in contributions, with Granite City topping the list again last year. In 1967, local residents contributed $8915 to the county-wide drive, followed by Edwardsville with $6168 and Alton with $6029.

The funds went toward aiding 34 polio victims in the county between June 1, 1966, and May 31, 1967, and 14 cases between June 1, 1967, and Oct. 1, 1967.

Additionally, 19 children with birth defects were aided with March of Dimes funds from June 1, 1966, to Oct. 31, 1967.

A grant of $2000 was contributed from local chapter funds to the Area Birth Defect Center at St. Louis Children's Hospital, and 34 persons received Health Study Scholarships with March of Dimes funds.

Madison Volunteers
Area captains in the Madison Mothers' Porchlight March on Monday are members of the Madison Junior Service Club, according to Mrs. Voloski.

Madison volunteers include: Mrs. June Barham, Mrs. Rita Barnhart, Mrs. Billie Bosworth, Mrs. Judy Donaldson, Mrs. Ruth Fanning, Mrs. Geraldine Friend, Mrs. Jackie Frizzell; Mrs. Sharon Gregg, Mrs. Loreta Hyla, Miss Jeanette Kern, Mrs. Doris Paterson, Mrs. DeLoyce Rhoads, Mrs. Rita Lybarger, Mrs. Marilyn Schaffner, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Alvera Stagner, Miss Jeanette Trtanj, Mrs. Glenna Rice, Mrs. Joan Voegel and Mrs. Adrienne Warchol, all members of the Madison Junior Service Club.

Additional volunteers in the Madison Mothers' March, announced today by Mrs. Voloski, are Mrs. Winnie Sasyk, Mrs. Vera Sikora, Mrs. Diana Blatter, Mrs. Bernadine Weldner, Mrs. Jean Rajewski, Miss Judy Kraus, Miss Jeanette Voloski, Miss Karen White, Miss Donna Kraus and Miss Linda Kaminiski.

Friday, 88c Grant's Skillet

Granite City council members and members of the park and school boards are to meet Feb. 1 and 7 with the staff of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission to review a program of updating the city's comprehensive growth plan.

The meeting dates are requested by Theodore H. Miksell, executive director of SIM-

APC, and were confirmed Monday night by the city council.

The 7 p.m. meetings at the city hall are to cover the plan agencies' proposed changes in preliminary drafts of the zoning ordinance, the 200 x 200 district map, the land use plan map, transportation plan map and the community facilities plan that concerns parks and schools.

All aldermen and city officials and the city engineer are to attend the meetings.

Also on Feb. 1 at 7:30 p.m., the Special Sewer committee, sewer engineers and interested contractors are to meet at the city hall with officials and engineers of the Housing and Urban Development office to go over federal regulations concerning the city's sanitary and storm water drainage construction projects.

Auto Battery Stolen

Sinbad Kasparian, 1923 Benton street, reported Monday that a 12-volt battery was stolen from his 1963 auto while it was parked in his garage during the night.

Auto Stops, Struck

The rear of an auto driven by Herman H. Miller Jr., 1344 Edwardsville road, stopped for a train at East 20th and Omaha streets, was struck by a car driven by Floyd C. Gibson, 2008 Russell street, at 7:25 p.m. Monday.

Council Cracking Down On Property Damage Cost

A crackdown on collections for damages to city property in accidents was noted during Monday night's session of the Granite City council.

Mayor Parney pointed out that City Atty. Allen has been instructed to institute proceedings where necessary to make the collections.

Allen advised the council that $543 had been paid by Madison County Mutual Auto Insurance Co. for damages on Sept. 29 to a traffic signal light at Name-oki and Pontoon roads by one of its patrons.

He also submitted copies of letters sent to two motorists involved in a Jan. 17 traffic accident, in which there was $13.50 damage to a street sign.

Alderman Whitmer, chairman of the Police committee, commented that the city will benefit greatly through pursuit of such collections. "It's something we should have been doing all along and that we should watch closely."

Police Use Radar Unit; 12 Drivers Ticketed

Twelve drivers were ticketed for speeding Monday as traffic division police operated a radar unit along Madison avenue and on Edwardsville road. Issued tickets were—

Walter R. Hasemano, St. Louis; Joseph R. Dittich, 3128 Myrtle avenue; Joyce M. Denson, 2901 Maryville road; Larry L. Meyer, DuQuoin; Raymond S. Heath, 1730 Sunsets drive; Doris A. Sharp, 2320 Grand avenue.

Group Is Meeting At U. of I.

A delegation of 45 Madison County women is attending the annual meeting of the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation today and tomorrow at the University of Illinois, Urbana.

"Keys to Excellence" is the theme of this year's meeting today in the U. of I. auditorium.

Dr. Charles Merrill Smith, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church, Bloomington, will speak at the banquet on the subject, "So You Want to Write a Book." Dr. Smith is the author of the best-seller, "How to Become a Bishop Without Really Being Religious."

Entertainment for the program will be provided by a group of Grundy County singing homemakers, "The Untertons."

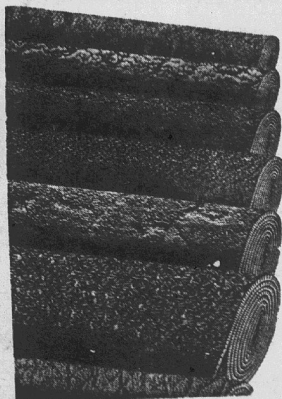

The Friday morning session will be devoted to a series of five workshops—membership, safety, public information, citizenship and recreation, and international programs.

BETROTHED, Miss Cora Sharline Hundley, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton C. Hundley, R. R. 2, Edwardsville, Ill., are announcing her engagement to Michael Paul Essenpreis.

300 Students Playing Intramural Basketball

More than 300 men students are enrolled in winter intramural basketball at the Southern Illinois University - Southwestern campus.

Robert Gueller, soccer coach and director of intramural sports, said the program involves 30 basketball teams playing four nights a week.

Most of the contests are held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Alton center gym, while the rest are played at East St. Louis and Glen Carbon.

Gueller said the current basketball participation is greater than in any previous year.

"When you consider all of these boys are commuters," Gueller said, "I would say our intramural program is pretty sound."

He said other teams are being formed in ping-pong, bowling and pocket billiards. These contests will be held in the University Center.

Gueller noted that 17 teams were assembled last fall for flag football. Students act as officials for the intramural activities.

New Group Instituted For World Education

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus will be a charter member of a new organization formed to promote and conduct educational, scientific, research and charitable activities in international education and the development of personnel and facilities for such activities.

Six midwest universities will make up the charter membership of the Associated Universities for International Education. In addition to SIU-SW they are Ball State University, Illinois State University, Loyola University, St. Louis University and Western Michigan University.

It is expected that the group will shortly include about 15 universities. A preliminary meeting of the association's board of directors will be held Friday in Springfield.

Modern Music Masters Formed at Venice High

The national office of Modern Music Masters, national music honor society, today announced the chartering of Chapter 1027 at Venice high school under the sponsorship of Donald W. Mancell.

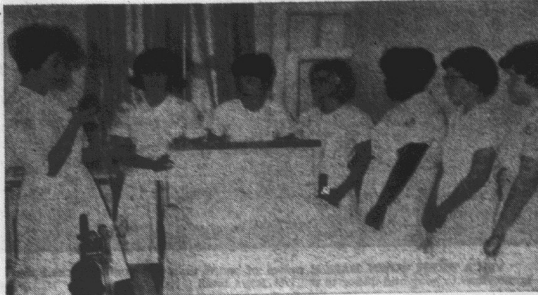

The society said the community may be proud of the foresight of Mancell and John Pier, superintendent, in recognizing the importance of the arts in the development of a comprehensive educational program.

The society provides a means of recognizing, on a national level, the efforts and achievements of those students who are giving unselfishly of their musical talents for their fellow man.

The chief aims of the society are to foster greater interest in band, orchestral and choral performance and to provide wider opportunities for personal musical expression. Students are selected for membership on the basis of musicianship, scholarship, character, cooperation, leadership and service to the school, church and community. Ability and scholarship in both music and academic subjects, solo or ensemble performance and cooperation with teachers and fellow students are basic requirements.

GIHS Band Concert To be Held Tonight

The Granite City high school band will hold its winter concert at 8 p.m. today in the school auditorium. Louis Meek is the conductor and Joseph Owens is the assistant conductor. The program includes: "The Northern Pines March" by John Philip Sousa, "Tiberius Romantic Overture" by Herbert L. Clarke, "American Overture for Band" by Joseph Willcox Jenkins, "Bravada" (Paso Doble) by Frederic Curzon, "Second Symphony - First Movement" by Alexander Borodin, arranged by Erik W. G. Leiden, "Begonia Again" by Glenn Osger, "Slavonic Rhapsody" by Carl Friedemann, arranged by M. L. Lake, "The New York Hippodrome" by Sousa and "I'll See You Again" by Noel Coward.

SIU-SW Student Nurses Training Here

A group of eight Southern Illinois University Junior nursing students entered into a three-month period of clinical experience at St. Elizabeth Hospital's Obstetrical department.

This step completes the utilization of all the hospitals nursing services, which began two years ago. Since this time the students have been associated with the hospitals nursing services on a regular basis.

The students, under the guidance of Mrs. Patricia Johnson, RN, assistant instructor, will spend the next three months on the Obstetrical unit putting into practice procedures, techniques and philosophy learned in classes.

There also are nine other students from the University serving in the Pediatric Department. This group of students is the sixth group to have gained Clinical Experience in St. Elizabeth Hospital since the association with the University began in December 1965.

SIU to Sponsor 3rd 'Study in Mexico'

Eastern Illinois University this summer will sponsor its third consecutive "study in Mexico" project at Monterrey, Tex.

High school students may earn one year's Spanish credit and six semester hours may be earned by college and graduate students. Intensive courses offered include architecture, art, economics, folklore, geography, history, literature and Spanish language.

Cost of the July 9-Aug. 17 program is $360, including tuition, room and board, laundry, medical services and touring. Richard L. Crouse, a member of the foreign languages department and director of the project, said partial scholarships are available for Eastern students and high school graduates intending to major in Spanish at Eastern.

YOU CAN TELL THEY'RE GOOD GUYS, THEY ALL WEAR WHITE HATS!

You say you wonder what your phone will be like in the year 2000?

By the turn of the century, chances are you won't recognize the familiar telephone. Based on services already in use or on the drawing boards, you can expect some pretty far-out developments.

For example, Picturephone® see-while-you-talk service, already in limited use, might well be offered in full color and three dimensions. With it, you could do the family grocery shopping, look at the new cars, or buy a new hat without leaving the house.

Electronic switching equipment, now in trial use, will call you back when a busy line you have called is free, or transfer your calls to another phone while you're away from home.

Telephones will be free to go where you go. A cordless portable extension phone, complete with dial, is currently undergoing tests.

Money handling will be revolutionized. You won't need to write checks or pay cash for most purchases. A telephone call to your bank's computer will take care of the payment. The same system will automatically pay monthly bills which you authorize and keep track of your bank balance. It might even figure your income tax.

By the year 2000, your telephone will probably be doing many other jobs that now seem unthinkable. But then, television, satellites, computers—even the telephone—were "impossible" 100 years ago.

Looking ahead to keep ahead in communications is one way we try to make your every "hello" a real good buy.

Two Guidance Courses To Be Offered Here

The Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus is offering the first of two graduate courses in elementary school guidance during the winter quarter with the prospect perhaps of establishing a year-round program on this subject.

Dean E. Rochester, coordinator of education research and services, who is teaching the course, said it is designed to improve guidance skills among elementary teachers and counselors.

The class meets each Monday evening in the Peck building. The course is titled "Techniques in Individual Guidance."

A second course scheduled for the spring quarter is called "Advanced Elementary School Guidance." It, too, will meet in the evening under Rochester's supervision.

be held on Valentine's Day, Feb. 12, at the school.

Miss Whittle is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Whittle, 2002 Edison avenue, secretary of the Protestant Welfare Association.

SIU-SW Teacher Tells Experiences in Vietnam

"I learned more than I never played with their pupils taught," says Mrs. Betty J. Kelley, who has just returned from Vietnam where she served on the Southern Illinois-Southwestern educational team for 18 months.

Mrs. Kelley joined the 11-man contract team in Saigon on July 4, 1966, as an educational adviser in the elementary training program and returned to the U.S. Jan. 12 to resume teaching at the local campus.

Under a contract with the Federal Agency for International Development, SIU's elementary teacher and vocational training programs have been in operation in Vietnam since 1961.

There are three stages in the Vietnamese program, Mrs. Kelley said, enthusiasm, frustration and resignation, in that order. "You either go back to stage one or you stay at stage three, in which case you should forget it and go home," she continued. "It is when you go back to stage one that you begin to accomplish something."

Next to the language barrier, the most difficult problem she encountered was the negative attitude of the Vietnamese, which she attributes to their treatment by the French. "We have to win their confidence before we can help them. They have a helplessness to which we contribute. We do things rather than show them how to do. Until we teach them to help themselves, the more we give them, the more some of them will want." The highest compliment I received, she said proudly, was when they told me, "You understand us, Mrs. Kelley."

Seven times a year the Saigon demonstration school had been holding four-week programs for 100 principals from the 50 provinces. Mrs. Kelley felt it was not the principals who should receive the training.

"Send me your 100 best teachers instead," she asked. "Let me teach them."

"Impossible," was the immediate rejoinder from the Vietnamese school authorities. "Teachers in Vietnam have no status."

Reluctantly they agreed, however, to send her 100 of their poorest teachers. "If this works, we'll think about sending you our best." The experiment was successful and Mrs. Kelley's request was granted.

With no money, she also established a professional journal for teachers. By her own admission, she achieved this practical 60-page journal "by scrounging and stealing material."

Three issues were published while she was there and 3000 copies of each were distributed free to the provinces.

There was no library for children so she found an old store-room and hired her driver to help her scrub and paint it. She secured old adult dining room chairs and tables and had them cut down for the "teeny, teeny Vietnamese children. With her own money she put books on the shelves. Most of the nice books, she found, were in French. SIU-SW paid for translating them into English. Now a show place decorated with pictures donated by friends, the library is visited by persons from all over South Vietnam.

There was room for only 20 children to be seated in the classrooms, Mrs. Kelley said. The others had to stand. With 60 to 80 in a class, there had been no segregation. She separated the slow learners from the fast and had one group recite while the other studied. Previously all had recited in unison. The teachers, she reported, were surprised but pleased with the results.

Older teachers in Vietnam never played with their pupils because they thought this would cause them to lose prestige, so a barrier existed between the teacher and the pupil. She tried to break down this barrier by encouraging them to play games with the children and showing them how to make teaching to add variety to their instruction. The younger teachers were especially adaptable to her suggestions, she said.

Saigon, where Mrs. Kelley lived in a furnished apartment close to the palace, was built for 500,000 people but more than two million are crowded into what on first view seemed to her a beautiful city. Children are forced to live in doorways and on the streets, she said ruefully.

"The Vietnamese," Mrs. Kelley said, "live only for today."

They don't have much to look forward to. For example, my 22-year-old interpreter had never known peace and couldn't imagine what it would be like to live in a country not at war."

Traffic in Saigon was terrific, she said. "You can't draw a breath without inhaling fumes from the motor bikes." Although she had a license, she did not drive during her 18 months in that country. "I had a driver and I took advantage of this fringe benefit," she said with a smile.

Mrs. Kelley decried the lack of persons with elementary background to teach in Vietnam and said she would be glad to tell qualified teachers how they can help that country's educational program. "Everybody should have a tour of duty. If they didn't appreciate what they had in the United States they will when they return," she prophesied.

SNOW REMOVAL WORK IN GC CALLED POOR

To the Editor:

I'll make this short and not so sweet. I would like to commend my alderman, Richard Fry, for his stand over snow removal.

The Granite City street superintendent has done a poor job of snow removal this past week, as he has done in past years.

On Jan. 15 as I drove to work it wasn't hard to notice that Granite City didn't hardly make a dent in the snow. Madison did a pretty good job.

But Venice, the smaller of the three, had the snow almost all removed.

I wish to thank Alderman Fry for his stand.

The other aldermen had better open their eyes. If the superintendent can't do a good job, we better get a new one.

what goes on in our neighborhood.

GC TAXPAYER POLYHOLDER.

BEWARE OF SOME INSURANCE CLAIMS

To the Editor:

For the benefit of people on social security and medicare, many insurance companies are offering supplementary insurance protection to provide what medicare does not furnish.

All of these companies try to outdo every competitor by offering the most for the least. They run big ads that have all the earmarks of an angel from Fort Knox at a time of dire need. Some of their brochures are as phony as a $9 bill. Some of the companies are not licensed to do business in Illinois and have no capital assets statement.

The big question is: Will they pay? Yes, in most cases, if the claim is small. But I wonder about the second claim by a policyholder.

They can say that the disease was caused by some previous sickness or accident, and the policyholder had 10 or 25 years previously. The legal limitation is five years.

I have a claim statement I am fighting for now, amounting to $500. It is 90 days past due for payment. My wife has a phony claim with another company in the amount of $315. Both are legal claims.

So I hope aldermen are not fooled by phony companies and expect to collect very much; they may be disappointed.

My wife's claim is being handled by friends who feel they have been gyped by five different companies.

In the next session of the state legislature I will seek approval of a bill to control insurance rackets.

HARD TO GET POLICEMEN TO VISIT TRI-CITY PARK

To the Editor:

On Monday, Jan. 22, at 8:45 p.m. my neighbor called the Granite City police about a tank car losing gas behind a house. At 9:45 p.m. they had not come yet.

We have no police protection out here in Tri-City Park. The only time they come out is to bring home one of the other policemen who live here. They use the taxpayers' money to lock them up and take them home.

They don't come down 14th street at all. We have spotters in the alley and on the street all hours of the night and day; they know that the police don't come out here.

If the police would stay out of Black's Bakery and Andy & Johnny's they would have more time to ride out here and see

Aid for 'Humpty Dumpty' Egg Shells

(American Institute of Biological Sciences)

How to determine which eggs have tough shells, as a means of eliminating millions of dollars lost each year because of thin-shelled egg breakage, has stymied scientists until now.

Previously there was no quick, non-destructive way to measure eggshell strength. Now, agricultural engineers can measure the strength of egg shells by firing alpha particles at the eggs.

The particles bounce back and are counted. A tough shell returns many more particles than fragile ones.

About three percent of the eggs produced in the U. S. in 1966 were broken during processing with a resulting loss of $25 million.

"If we could save only a fraction of this," engineers studying the problem say, "we could effectively increase egg production with no extra feed, labor, or handling costs."

Eggs can now be classified according to their shell strength by firing alpha particles at the eggs. The alpha particles are emitted from a radioactive source and pass through the egg shell.

How many particles pass through the egg shell is a measure of its strength. The more particles that pass through, the weaker the shell.

Commercial construction, consisting of office buildings and stores, has picked up lately and it looks as if this trend will continue. The 1968 figure in this category should reach $7.2 billion, up from $6.9 billion in 1967.

Industrial plant construction should be at about the same level, with a 3.2 percent increase in expenditures accounted for principally by higher costs.

Labor, Materials Higher

This is true across the board, with higher dollar figures for most types of construction reflecting increasing labor and material costs.

White housing starts for the year may be up by 15%, for instance, expenditures for housing started several months earlier would actually be up 18.6%.

Educational and hospital construction, both public and private, should show moderate gains. In the former, college and university facilities will account for most of the gain, since there has been a slowing down of the increasing elementary and secondary school enrollment.

Other types of construction, principally sewer and water systems and conservation and development projects, will increase only slightly, apart from expected cost increases.

Recovery in 1968 expenditures is forecast, compared to an 8% decline in 1967.

Water supply expenditures recovered in 1967, after declining sharply last year. They can now be expected to show a modest gain in the coming year due to the leveling-off of housing starts, high municipal water costs and restrictions of federal assistance. The last of these will also hold down conservation and development expenditures.

The largest population increases are now in the 20-to-24 and over-65 age groups, meaning that the percentage of apartment building in the housing mix may rise from 4.5% to 5.5%.

Then, too, high land costs, lower birthrate and higher schooling years are expected to affect this ratio.

Prospects for other types of construction in 1968 appear mixed.

Proposed Apartments Are Needed Here, Deserve Favorable Action By Aldermen

The article in today's issue giving background information on the $1,300,000 Granite City Village Apartments proposal makes it abundantly clear that favorable council action would serve both the local community and the goals of the council itself.

Unfamiliarity with the project, the desire for a buffer zone and hesitancy to change the original zoning were the principal factors cited in a 9-4 adverse vote Monday night.

Full information on the plan is available to all who seek it. And City Plan Commission records show that it has received thorough scrutiny. Several aspects have been reviewed by the developer at the commission's request in order to further improve the attractiveness to city fathers.

Analysis indicates that a 100-foot-wide "green belt" separating three town houses and a swimming pool from the rear yards of existing houses would be a far more effective buffer than would a row of additional residences populated by families of average size. The moving responsibility hardly seems burdensome enough to offset the opportunity for a free public recreation and nature area, and the accompanying permanent guarantee against any conflicting land usage. And the site would be ideal for a future stormwater line.

Reasoning was cited as likely at the time the 117-acre area southeast of Pontoon road and Stearns avenue was annexed in 1965. Absence of a full development plan at that time made it impossible to know precisely what zoning designation would be most suitable. Now that it has become clear that the huge tract must be developed in sections in order to obtain sufficient financing, the change sought is not surprising or excessive.

The 124 apartments are needed here. In many ways, the developer has leaned over backward to bring the valuable new housing to Granite City. Council members should put out the welcome mat, not slam the door.

Granite City May Dominate County Ballots

Granite City, once almost entirely shut out of Madison county elective offices, is in danger of dominating the ballots on the ballot in the 1968 elections. Primary aspirants

Judge Business By Ethical Performance, Standards of Integrity

By DR. NATHAN BAILY
Dean, American University
School of Business Administration
(Last of three articles)

How many of us have seen any attempt to face up to the question of whether size of a business really is (two facts) evidence of an anti-business attitude? Why does every small businessman I know have bigness as his goal?

Is there something wrong with being big business and something wonderful about being small? If so, what are the reasons? Why do we live much easier and make the reflection of this wonderful thought that they are best for the economy and best for the consumer?

Has anyone attempted to find out how the consumer is treated by small business as compared to big? Where do we find the better quality, more integrity, higher ethical performance, lower prices, better service, more living up to advertising claims?

Objective research might destroy some of our cherished illusions.

Growth a Sign of Success

If you believe in consumer sovereignty, and if you believe that the consumer should be the best judge of his own best interests, growth is the tangible sign of success in reaching the consumer and meeting the tests of the market place—which are the easiest tests in the world.

I was interested to see a statement by our own newspaper, the Granite City Press-Record, which said, "Even if a company gains 100% of a market, it wouldn't be violating the law if it obtained its position by simply getting out a superior product."

To go astray, he said, a company must act overtly to "monopolize" an industry by forcing competitors out of business with it exclusively, or imposing other anti-competitive arrangements.

The Trap of Size

Fundamentally, I think that we fall into an emotional and economic trap when trying to for five county offices include four Democrats and two Republicans residing in Granite City and two former residents seeking GOP nominations.

Greater geographical balance exists when 1968 district offices are considered, plus the district and county posts not up for election this year. But we won't be surprised if this fact is overlooked in the heat of the campaign.

No Basis for Refund to Truckers Who Were Provided Bridge Route by Madison

Litigation by 13 trucking firms and by the state of Missouri against the Madison-owned Chain of Rocks Bridge overlooks the fact that the bridge for many years provided a convenient Mississippi River crossing not otherwise available.

It is true that the Interstate 270 free bridge now provides the principal bi-state route north-west of the Quara valley, but even today some travelers use the city bridge on a toll-free basis. Fees ended Aug. 1, 1966, a month before the federal span was opened.

Whether the "price was right" is a moot point. Other bridges a considerable distance away could have been used by trucks and autos, and all or most motorists were aware of the amount of the toll before deciding to use the Chain of Rocks Bridge.

Our travel in other states in recent years has brought to our attention countless other bridge and road tolls, some measured in dollars rather than cents. Truckers surely encounter the same situation and take it into account when charging their customers.

In building up a multi-million-dollar cash reserve and making substantial operating and improvement funds available to the city treasury, Madison officials admittedly chose such fund utilization over other potential uses, including reduction of tolls, surely a move possible by the small depression-era purchase price contrasted sharply with the poverty during world war II, when the city saw a sharp revenue drop due to gasoline and tire rationing but continued to maintain the bridge.

The city now has enough problems in trying to decide on some constructive disposition for the bridge and in developing its bridge-financed industrial park.

Those seeking to recover large sums from Madison have no squawk coming. A helpful service was provided to them during all the years that tolls were being paid. No good reason has been given as yet for such an unprecedented refund.

124 Years of Service By YMCA

Founded in England in 1844 and in the U. S. seven years later, the Young Men's Christian Association is a worldwide organization of millions of people representing all Christian faiths.

The local YMCA, dating back a half century, has ably advanced the objectives of physical fitness, personal improvement, spiritual ideals, fellowship, vocational guidance, citizenship and public service.

During National YMCA Week this week, thoughts go back to the founder, George Williams, and to his belief that "if earnest, devoted and self-sacrificing men can be found to unite themselves together, God would smile upon their efforts and much good might be done." His greatest hopes have been realized, and the good that has been accomplished has reached proportions undreamed of 124 years ago.

extent the federal government has encouraged the growth of big business in this country.

Obviously, we need small businesses to keep our economy flexible and healthy, but the goal of small business is to become big business.

Much of small business depends on big business at the same time that much of that is being threatened by big business.

As Charles G. Mortimer once commented: "Attempting to curb the natural growth of business by legislation or regulation is like the old Chinese proverb: 'The more you try to stop it, the more it grows.'"

The August 1965 editorial of Modern World is relevant here: "How, then, does the myth stay alive that big business is bad just because it's big? The answer, in part, is a paradox of the times."

"Oddly enough, some of the talk about the badness of big business comes from perfectly honest men in Congress and the federal government who are the world's biggest business."

What are the actual competitive advantages of big business? American University's School of Business Administration for Management for Appliances Retailers.

Over and over again, in this own bigness, big business, examples of the success of small business are cited. They have flexibility, adaptability, and the ability to move quickly, pick up a market trend and ride it fast before the giants have cleared the new strategy with the district office, regional office and home office.

On the other hand, if you take a look at the growth of big business, you see that, to a large degree, diversification is a defensive device to preserve certain advantages of small business while adding certain benefits of big business.

The Trap of Size

Fundamentally, I think that we fall into an emotional and economic trap when trying to make an issue of big business versus small business.

Obviously, we need small businesses to keep our economy flexible and healthy, but the goal of small business is to become big business.

Much of small business depends on big business at the same time that much of that is being threatened by big business.

As Charles G. Mortimer once commented: "Attempting to curb the natural growth of business by legislation or regulation is like the old Chinese proverb: 'The more you try to stop it, the more it grows.'"

Social Security Number Linked To Financial Records, Tax Returns

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q-I'm being asked for my social security number by my savings bank. What do they need it for?

A-All payers of dividends and interest are required by law to report payments amounting to $10 or more a year to IRS. The law further requires these payments to be identified by the social security number of the recipient.

Q-My former husband gives me $25 a week for the support of our two children. Who gets to claim them?

A-If your divorce agreement specifies $25 a week for the two children, then the payments will be applied equally to each of them.

In that case, you or your former husband would claim one or both children, depending on which of you provided more than half their separate support.

Q-My neighbor told me I could take a two cent credit for every gallon of gas I use in my motor boat. Is that right?

A-Yes. A credit of two cents for each gallon of gas.

Zip Code Not Zipping Very Fast

(Annapolis Herald, Littleton, Colo.)

The U. S. Post Office Department must have something in mind in creating Zip Codes. Whatever it is, the zip at present isn't doing much to speed up the ordinary citizen's first class letters.

Last week we confirmed our suspicion that the zip code will be used some day in handling mass mailings, such as junk mail or big magazines. By postmarking people the zip code, we have found the government may hope for zip for the mass mailers or for big-city sorting machines.

But why doesn't the post office take us by the hand and confide in us? This mistrust of the public has gone on for a generation.

Citizens were induced to buy savings bonds during world war II to "finance the fighting." (The real reason was to take cash out of circulation to hold down inflation.)

Gas rationing was imposed, but not to save gas. (The tire supply had to last for the rationing and by restricting the average motorist to four gallons a week, this was accomplished.)

Why don't we want to cooperate with the government. But we like honest answers. The Creeping Handicap is bad for a democracy.

I submit that there is a good deal in both quotations that have a significant bearing on the question, "Is Big Business Bad For The Consumer?"

'Well Baby Clinic' Feb. 6 at EOC Center

Appointments are being accepted at the present time to examine infants and pre-school children at the "Well Baby Clinic" on Tuesday, Feb. 6, at the Madison EOC Neighborhood Services Center, 145 Madison avenue.

Extension of medical examinations and consultation services to cover the pre-school age child was announced by clinic supervisory personnel earlier this month. Appointments may be made by calling the center, at 451-7624.

Mrs. Paula Webb of the EOC staff today said volunteers able to furnish transportation and to provide other services in connection with the free clinic are urgently needed. Any Quad-City resident, wishing to donate their time to the project is asked to contact the center.

Mathon Aboard Ship Receiving an Award

Michael E. Mathon, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Mathon of 125 Trochler lane, participated in the rescue of 37 Hong Kong Chinese sailors from a grounded Liberian freighter while serving in the Western Pacific aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Coral Sea.

A foot-high silver trophy was presented the captain and crew of the Coral Sea on behalf of the master and crew of the "Loyal Fortunes" which ran aground on the Pratas Reef 170 miles south of Hong Kong. On Nov. 6, 1967, the Coral Sea was enroute to Hong Kong when she received the distress signal from the freighter, and lifted the crew off the ship by helicopter the following morning.

W-2 Forms to Include Some Non-Wage Items

Employers must include both wages and certain other compensation paid to employees on 1967 Forms W-2, Wage and Tax Statements, Jay C. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, announced today.

Other compensation payments include such items as (1) travel or other expense allowances, (2) the cost of certain group-term life insurance purchased for employees and (3) the value of non-cash prizes or awards to cash commission salesmen where no income tax is withheld.

This rule applies to payments, cash or non-cash, if they amount to $600 or more in a calendar year or if the total of employee wages plus other compensation amounts to $600 or more.

Philpott also reminded employers that Form W-2, showing income and social security tax information for 1967, must be furnished all employees on or before Wednesday, Jan. 31.

Minimum Wage Changes Feb. 1

Nearly two million U.S. employers—employing about 42.5 million workers who will be affected by new changes in the federal minimum wage law—will receive a special informational package from the Department of Labor. The package will contain information about changes in the Fair Labor Standards Act that becomes effective Feb. 1.

Included will be an official poster which must be displayed in the establishments, highlights of the amended law, a listing of regional, district and field offices of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions and a coupon that may be mailed to the Divisions' offices for further information.

The new changes, resulting from 1966 amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act, establish a wage of at least $1.60 an hour for employees covered by the provisions of the act before last Feb. 1. These employees are presently entitled to $1.40 an hour.

Employees newly brought under the law last February will be entitled to not less than $1.15 an hour. The rate for these workers is now at least $1 an hour.

Overtime pay of 1½ times the employee's regular rate of pay for hours in excess of 40 in the workweek will remain the same for those now on the 40-hour standard. The standard of 44 hours for newly-covered employees will change to 42 hours.

Certain farm workers who are now entitled to $1 an hour will be due at least $1.15 an hour, also beginning on Feb. 1. There is no overtime provision for hired farm workers.

A non-technical pamphlet explaining provisions of the amended Fair Labor Standards Act is now available from the offices of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions. The "Handy Reference Guide to the Fair Labor Standards Act" gives basic information about the law's minimum wage, overtime pay, equal pay and child labor standards.

Copies of the amended law or the Reference Guide are available from the U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., 20402 at 15 cents each. There is a 25¢ reduction in price for orders of 100 or more.

'Winter Fest' to be Held on Campus Here

A "Winter Fest" is being planned at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus for Feb. 24, with activities to range from ice skating to dancing.

The University Center will take on a German atmosphere with German artifacts decorating the building. Student workers will be attired in German-type clothing and German music will be played.

A continuous sing-along, led by Otto Shultz and his German band, will be held in the Goshen lounge. A buffet dinner will be held, followed by dancing.

Nigerians Seek Ways To Come to America

"Everyone in Nigeria is looking for a way to get to America," said Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's Prof. Wayland Van Syoc upon his return from that country often referred to as "the show place of Africa." Despite anti-American propaganda in some of the official newspapers, he added, the young people of Nigeria feel "America is where the action is."

A member of SIU-SW's humanities division, Van Syoc went to Nigeria last August to investigate the feasibility of using a teaching machine which could be combined with programmed instruction to train teachers of English as a second language. This is particularly desirable, the professor said, in countries where there are not enough human teachers. Van Syoc's trip was sponsored by a special Ford Foundation grant to SIU-SW's International Services Division.

The University of Ife, where he was stationed, and the University of Ibadan, where he lived, are two of the most beautiful universities in the world, he believes. Both are ultra-modern and the students and architecture very sophisticated. Their professors are often leaders in their fields from all over the world," Van Syoc said. Only a fence separates the two universities.

Hancock Elected to Men's Leadership Group

Wayne Hancock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hancock of 11 Frontenac lane, was one of 14 Illinois State University students and three faculty members elected into membership of the ISU circle of Omicron Kappa, a junior-senior men's leadership society.

Election to the society is based on unquestioned leadership ability in the fields of collegiate life—athletics, student government, social and religious affairs, publications and communications, speech, music, drama and other arts, and scholarship. Each must have attained special distinction in at least one of the five areas.

Hancock is a senior in mathematics with a minor in driver education. He has been a member of the varsity tennis team, was IAC conference champion in 1967, won on the varsity board in 1966-67, and had an original article published in "The Illinois Driver Education Association Journal." He is a member of the Math club and National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Speaker Smith Speaks At Daughter's Event

It doesn't happen too frequently, but it did to House Speaker Ralph T. Smith, who delivered the commencement address on the occasion of his daughter Sharon Lynne's completion of the nurse training course at the Decatur Hospital in Decatur. Then, together with her mother, the parents watched their daughter receive her nurse certificate.

Miss Smith has been a student at Millikin University since 1964 in the baccalaureate nursing program.

She has also completed the required work for a bachelor of science degree from Millikin which she will receive at the regular commencement in June.

Saigon Square Dancers Forward Greetings Here

The Checkerboard Squares have received a belated Christmas card from the Viet My Mixers in Saigon, South Vietnam, mailed last week.

Sgt. Gary Green, former leader of the Checkerboard Squares, now is calling regularly for the Viet My Mixers and is teaching three new squares of Vietnamese nationals.

They have just completed a television show and are starting to make public appearances under Sgt. Green's leadership.

The Checkerboards and their Vietnamese counterparts have decided to correspond to exchange views and ideas on Western-style square dancing. The Saigon group is Sgt.

54 Q-C Students Make Dean's List At Local Campus

Fifty-four Quad-City students were among 327 at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus to qualify for the dean's list for the fall quarter. Thirteen maintained perfect grade-point averages.

In making the announcement today, Prof. J. M. Conner said the list represents an increase of 87 names over the previous fall quarter. To qualify, a student must have a grade-point average of 4.25 or better (B being equivalent to 4.0, A to 5.0).

Making straight A's were Pete A. Carich, Phyllis J. Crews, Myra C. Daugherty, Ruth Farmer, Barry S. Lewis, Susan E. Lybarger, Barbara J. Mang, Deane R. McBrien, Joseph A. Mercer, Kathleen Nichols, Sandra L. Palovich, D. P. Stamboldyjev, and Walter H. Warfield, all of Granite City.

Others on the list from Granite City are Mary A. Abramovich, John E. Beatty, Roy T. Blair, Betty J. Bolt, Daniel L. Boyd, James F. Bressan, Donna C. Gallis, Kathryn A. Conell, Carol L. Cuchna, Janet M. Darakjian, Kevin D. DeRuntz, Diane M. Dechow, Gregory P. Gallis, Theresa A. Gundlach, Sharon S. Gusewelle, Christy M. Heinz.

Elvin L. Hoekstra, Robert C. Lancaster, Carol A. Luer, Imogene MacClatchey, Paul J. Mills, Janet A. Naeve, Lawrence Oetzel, Jr., Mary C. Parchment, Robert E. Staveley, Dennis W. Thurston, Dorcas M. Twitemeyer, Henry A. Vleth, Floyd L. Walukakis, Linda M. Whitten, Erik P. Wiehardt and Phyllis V. Wiggin.

From Madison are Patricia M. Havranek, Susan T. Kaman, Gary J. Kasprovier, Jean M. Mehlich and Judith Ann Pogorlac.

Meeting Saturday To Give Data on Mitchell Sewer

A public meeting in which details of a sewer construction program for the Mitchell area will be outlined is scheduled in the Mitchell school gymnasium at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Lee Paul, chairman of the board of the Mitchell Public Water district, said facts determined by a feasibility study conducted by the engineering firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab will be considered in the meeting which will be an informative session rather than one in which a decision is to be made.

Construction of a sewer system in the area that now comprises the water district has been under discussion for the past two years. Efforts to obtain a federal grant for such a project as a prelude to working up a definite plan were unsuccessful.

As a result any project undertaken in the district would have to be financed with revenue bonds which would be retired with rental fees on sewer connections.

A referendum on a bond proposal would be necessary as the first step in such a project, Paul said.

Oriental Foods to be Featured at Church

A special session in a series of special mission studies will be conducted at Netheringham Memorial Methodist Church next Sunday evening. The theme for the church-wide School of Missions is "Japan," and classes are being taught for all ages.

The evening will begin with a Fellowship supper at 6 p.m., with special Oriental foods supplementing the regular "potluck" contributions of the participants.

A special feature of next Sunday's program will be the presentation of a color motion picture entitled, "Younger Brother." This mission film portrays the confrontation of ancient Japanese customs and the Christian principle of loving concern. It will be shown in Wesley Hall at 8 p.m.

In the regular morning worship services at 8:30 and 10:40, the sermon will be delivered by the minister, the Rev. R. Paul Sims. The sermon theme will be "New Birth Through an Old Book."

The children's sermon in the 10:40 worship service will be delivered by the associate minister, the Rev. Dean Blackburn. Antennas for both services will be in the Warren G. Simons with the youth choir singing at 8:30 and the adult Chancel choir singing in the 10:40 worship service.

$1,855,000 Bond Sale For Storm Sewer Finally Ok'd

Without comment, Granite City council members voted approval Monday night of the ordinance authorizing sale of $1,855,000 general obligation bonds for construction of a storm water drainage system in the older section of the city.

Last week, the ordinance failed to gain sufficient support for final adoption and then was placed on first reading after the bid opening date was changed to March 5 from Feb. 20.

The original bond sale ordinance, adopted Jan. 3, had the maximum amount of $1,000,000 but the figure was reduced because the request for a 1967 tax levy to cover $45,000 of the cost was not filed with the county clerk before the end of the 1967 calendar year.

The overall storm water project also is being financed with a grant of $1,400,000 federal tax funds that requires matching funds from Granite Cityans.

Approval of the ordinance was opposed by Aldermen Moertlen, Fry and Parmley, all of whom voted against it last week. Voting "aye" were Dallas, Bartosiek, Whitmer, Poulos, Green, Rutledge, Basarich, Nona, Jarrett, Dawes and Johnson. Those absent, due to illness, were Boyd and Robertson.

Court Proceedings
Alderman Rutledge, chairman of the Finance committee, announced during Monday night's meeting that the city now is ready to go into the small claims court to collect sewer rental fees owed the city. The amount totals $23,000 to $24,000.

City Treasurer E. R. Rich asked for assistance from the city attorney in collecting sewer rental fees of $8.10 and $6.30 from individuals whose checks "have bounced." He said police have visited the homes on three different occasions and received promises of payment, but nothing has happened. City Atty. Allen said criminal proceedings can be instituted for bad check writing.

Another sewer problem was brought out by Street Supt. William Warfield, who said the city should consider revisions to the pumps in the sanitary sewer lift stations at Nameoki road and St. Clair avenue and at St. Clair and Warren avenues. He said the stations are running at capacity around-the-clock and that larger pumps are needed.

Simplified Method for Claiming Medicare Benefits

By RALPH BRASHER

When Medicare first started on July 1, 1966, there were two ways for older people to get their doctor bills paid under the program. The first called for the doctor's agreeing to claim the 80% payment direct from Medicare, by filling out a very simple one-page application form.

The other required that the beneficiary first pay the bill.

Police Car Bids Under Advisement

Taken under advisement by the Police committee were six bids for five police cars ordered Monday night by the Granite City Council.

Alderman Whitmer, chairman, commented on the large number of bids, and said all will be reviewed to determine if specifications are met—especially the two-way radio planned for the car to be assigned to the juvenile-traffic divisions of the police department.

The bids for five 1968, four-door, eight-cylinder sedans are total figures with trade-in allowances for four 1967 police cars deducted.

Brewer Motor Co. bid $901 for five Ambassadors; B. E. Hohl, Inc., $920 for five Fords; Mathews Chevrolet Co., $978 for five Chevrolets; Elledge Motor Co., $10,250 for five Plymouths; and Farrington Motor Co. bid $10,321 for five Dodge Coronets and $11,971 for five Dodge Polars.

Council members authorized purchase of four state-approved helmets for motorcycle patrolmen to meet the requirements of the new state law effective Feb. 1. Cost of the helmets will be $28 each, including winter fittings.

Purchase of a punch and shear for the sign section of the police department also were approved. The shear will cost $74 and the punch $38. The department has been making its own stop and other traffic signs with borrowed equipment that had to be returned.

Hire the Handicapped Committee to Meet

An organizational meeting is planned for 7 p.m. today at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn at the Southwestern Council of Mayors committee on "Hire the Handicapped."

A constitution is to be adopted and officers and committee chairmen will be elected. Invitations have been sent to representatives appointed by mayors of cities who participate in the Southwestern Council of Mayors organization.

The committee on "Hire the Handicapped," which includes Carl Mathias and Avery Schermer for the Quad-Cities, will concern itself with problems on the subject which may occur in Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

and then apply for the Medicare payment, with or without the help of the doctor.

During the first year and a half of Medicare, about half of the claims for doctor bills were put in directly by the doctors while the beneficiaries had to apply, after paying the bill, in about half the cases. The system worked well enough—almost $1.3 billion was paid in benefits under it—but not without hardship to those older people who could raise the money to pay the bill only by borrowing or by depriving themselves of necessities while waiting for the Medicare payment to come in.

Itemized Bill
Now Congress has changed all this to eliminate the necessity for the beneficiary's paying the bill first, in cases where the doctor decides not to make the claim himself.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1968, all the beneficiary needs is an itemized bill—not an itemized, retorted bill as in the past. Of course, the assignment-to-the-doctor method is still the simplest method for all concerned.

It requires the use of only a single sheet of paper (the "Request for Payments" form), with no attachments or enclosures that might become separated from the claims form and delay a payment. Also has blanks for all of the kinds of information needed to pay a claim, thus further preventing "write-backs" for missing data without which a claim cannot be paid. Under this method, the doctor agrees to accept the "reasonable charge" determined by the carrier, as his full charge, and the basis of the 80% payment made to him.

The part is responsible for the other 20% plus any part of the $50 annual deductible that might be remaining.

But even if the doctor declines to accept an assignment, it can be to his advantage to use the "Request for Payments" form in lieu of his standard receipted bill in the case of Medicare beneficiaries. Experience has shown that payments can be processed much faster when the form is used. This, in turn, will result in the beneficiary's receiving his Medicare check sooner, with its proceeds passed along to that much sooner to the attending doctor.

All the doctor's office needs to do is complete Part II of the standard form. That will serve as the itemized bill which the patient can send in, to claim his payment. As before, Medicare pays $4 out of every $5, after the first $50 medical bills in a year.

Four Hubcaps Stolen

Herman Bader, 3263 Willow avenue, reported to the county sheriff's office at 11:25 p.m. Monday that four wire wheel hubcaps were stolen off his 1964 auto while it was parked at the Bowland between 7 and 9 p.m.

Income Tax Aid Here on Mondays

Quad-City area residents who need assistance in computation of their 1967 income tax returns or require answers to questions may obtain help on Mondays at a special Internal Revenue Service office in the city hall.

The office on the third floor of the city hall is manned each Monday by revenue agents assigned out of the East St. Louis district office from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 4 p.m.

The office is open on Mondays only and no telephone service is provided. Persons seeking answers to questions that might be answered by telephone, however, may call the East St. Louis office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Window Shattered

A large plate glass window at Al's barbershop, Niedringhaus avenue and State street, was shattered during the night, it was reported Monday.

Area PTA Council Award Nominations Due Friday

Tomorrow is the deadline to submit nominations for the 1968 "Outstanding PTA Life Membership Award," Lee Reid, Frohardt school principal and chairman of the nominations committee, today reminded local PTA officers.

Recipient of the award, presented annually by the Granite City Area Council of Parents Teachers Associations, will be announced and the winner honored at the council's "Appreciation Awards Banquet" at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 6, in the cafeteria of Granite City high school.

Also highlighting the annual banquet will be a talk by Mrs. Walter G. Kimmel of Rock Island, president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, and a special performance by members of the Checkerboard Squares, a nationally-known troupe of young dancers from this area. Selection for the council's highest award is based on outstanding contributions to education, or PTA activities. Local PTA units may nominate candidates for the honor by submitting the names of nominees and their resumes to the nominations committee chairman. Tickets, at $3.25 per person, still are available for the 6:30 p.m. smorgasbord dinner and program. Mrs. Pat Polley, council president said today.
